 Eighth Annual Meeting of the Noanett Garden Club.

The eighth Annual Meeting of the Noanett Garden Club was held on Nov. 4th at the Sedham Country Club at 11 A. M. The President, Mrs. Frothingham in the chair.

The Recording Secretary read the report of the last annual meeting which was accepted.

The Treasurer reported that at the close of the fiscal year Sept. 30th 1931 the balance in the First National Bank of Hyde Park was $913.08.

The Chairman of the Program Committee Mrs. Homan read the report. During the past year the Committee has had especially two objects in view. One to see members' places not before visited and the other to see the small gardens belonging to members. Through a questionnaire it was made known who had not had meetings. Groups of small gardens were seen in Sherborn, Walpole, Needham & North Easton and gave us some of our most delightful garden experiences.

We were also most fortunate in having invitations to visit the Gardens of Mrs. Homer Sage near Worcester and of Mrs. Clement Houghton in Chestnut Hill. The afternoon spent among the North Andover gardens was outstanding in its interest, in spite of intense heat.

Sixteen meetings were held during the year - Mr. Sturtevant of Loochope helped us all by his lecture on Wild gardening and our President, Mrs. Frothingham, gave a clear and colorful description of the Annual Meeting of the Garden Club of America. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Homans for her work on the New Card Catalogue of Members.

— Chairman of the Admissions Com. Mrs. Adams reported five resignations during the year. Mrs. Philip Saltmarsh, Mrs. Francis Peabody, Mrs. Samuel Peabody, Mrs. William T. Porter, Mrs. Lucie Blake the new members are

Miss Louise Hurrenrell, Mrs. Robert Scuttler, Mrs. G. Richmond Fearing 3rd, Mrs. John M. Elliot

— Chairman of the Conservation Committee Mrs. Philip Allen read her report.

Early in the year a committee was formed of one member ^{from} each town represented in the Club of which there are 16. Specific work accomplished during the year was Chinese Elm planted opposite the old Fairbanks House in Dedham under the Supervision of Mrs. Morrill.

Mrs. Stor Ware for Westwood planted around the Town Hall small evergreens which were donated. Next year it is hoped to have more funds so that other improvements may be started. Every member is urged to join the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society - Five thousand gummed labels reading "Favor products not advertised on the "Landscape" were purchased for distribution. An anti-mosquito Campaign under State advice and direction will soon be started. The outstanding accomplishment of the Conservation Committee in raising $669. for the Billboard Law Defence Fund (the largest sum contributed by any Massachusetts Garden Club) is entirely due to the generosity of the Boston members.

Chairman of the Plant Com.
Mrs. Augustin H. Parker.

 Made her report. The first step of this committee was to send out a questionnaire to find out what plants were wanted by members. The material was offered at cost and the members got good value. Laurel, White flowering dogwood, Magnolia glauca Ink berry, Bearberry, Lady Slipper, and Trillium were distributed. The next activity of the committee was the Spring Plant Sale. This was held at Mrs. Bradley's barn in Nellesley. Besides the plants for sale, given by members, there were garden tools, spades, and other attractive garden accessories.
 The Sale ^{was} most successful. It is to be hoped that next year more members may contribute and more come to buy as non-members made most of the purchases & the club depends on this sale to help relief the treasury. In 1933 this Sale will be on May 21.

Chairman of the Bulletin Committee Mrs. Stimson reported that several Poems, Articles and Notes from nonnet members had been

sent to the Bulletin and printed.

Mrs. M^{rs}. Knight, Chairman of the board of Editors welcomed articles on members' gardens or gardens seen when travelling. These may be sent to her at 1615 21st St. N. Washington, D.C.

Chairman of Visiting Gardens Com. Miss Penne reported that although the list of Noanett gardens had been at the Continental Tea Room in Dedham, practically no members of the other Garden Clubs had made use of it in order to visit our gardens. Mrs. William Baltzell, Mrs. Lindsay Long, Mrs. Walter Huntzelle have kindly consented to open their gardens to members of the Federated Garden Clubs who will visit Boston in June.

Mrs. Long reported that their Club will be a flower show in May at Mrs. Dodge's in Westwood. The last show was surprisingly good and the committee hope that the next will be even better.

The President reported that the Garden ^{club} exhibit at the Massachusetts Horticultural Society Spring Show is to be treated as one Garden. The different clubs are merely asked to contribute certain plants. Mrs. Frothingham has pledged to attempt to provide Escalier peach-trees to cost $100.00. These are to be raised by Edgar in Warehous and sold afterwards to the members of the Club.

The President then asked Mrs. Palfrey, Chairman, for the report of the Nominating Committee. The slate was presented and the Recording Secretary was empowered to cast one vote.

It was voted to give $20.00 to Lowthorpe^{school},

A discussion as to the kind of members.

Mrs. Burr made an amusing suggestion for one meeting. Any member wishing the opinion of other members of her garden should write the Club to see the garden. Then each member should write criticisms on slips of paper and hand to hostess. These need not be signed.

A discussion followed on the advisability of letting members buy

My dear

In obedience to the Club By-Laws the Executive Committee is obliged to remind you of the following, relative to attendance:---

"A member must be present at four meetings of the Club during the same year or forfeit her membership unless an adequate reason is sent to the Secretary and accepted by the Executive Committee, who will reserve the right to take into consideration the general usefulness to the Club of that member."

If the records are correct; you have been present at only..... regular meetings during the past year.

Will you please send a letter telling us the reasons for your absence and whether your interest in the Club still continues.

Sincerely yours,

*Form adopted for first time

It was voted not to accept that of Mrs. John, Rice, because it was thought her resignation was due to a misunderstanding and the Secretary was requested to write and ask her to reconsider her decision. A list of ~~members~~ candidates for entrance into the club was read by Mrs. Adams. It was voted that Miss George Agassiz should fill the one of the vacancies left by the three resignations. No other Name was voted on at this meeting.

Mrs Est Fautine Hutchins.

There was some discussion about the Annual Meeting of the Club in Nov. whether it should be a luncheon meeting or an afternoon meeting. The feeling of the Club seemed to be to have a simple luncheon at Old Redham Club each member to pay for her own lunch. The Program committee will arrange about this and keep the price of the lunch as low as possible. The President gave several notices then spoke of Prof Hamilton's kindness in going several times to Moore Hill and giving advice & charge of our problems there. Mrs Faring suggested that the club give $50.00 to the Lexington Botanic Garden in recognition of this.

Mrs Frothingham objected to this gift on the grounds that Mr Hamilton sold plants and ran a business in Lexington and therefore he should not have gifts given to him any more than

Mrs. Learning made a report of the Federated Garden Club's annual meeting at Miami to which she was a delegate from Waverlet.

MEDFIELD RHODODENDRONS

For centuries past, there has been a natural rhododendron plantation in Pine Swamp, about one-half mile west of the main road between Medfield and Walpole, known as Spring Street, and about three-quarter's of a mile from the Town of Medfield. This plantation is one of the most remarkable works of nature in Eastern Massachusetts. There are about 12 acres in the actual rhododendron area, and 10 acres are included in this purchase. A portion of it is very dense and most luxuriant, with clumps of many hundred square feet, from ten to fifteen feet in height. The encircling growth of forest trees adds greatly to the charm of the surroundings. There are hemlocks, yellow birch, beech, mountain holly, and maple--quite an unusual variety for this section of Massachusetts.

In order to secure this main portion of the plantation, it has been necessary to buy about fifty acres of meadow and woodland. A portion has already been paid for, and a portion is under option. It has been the thought of those interested, to have the purchase made by The Trustees of Public Reservations from general subscriptions among those interested in horticulture in this community. Donations should be made to The Trustees of Public Reservations, John S. Ames, Treasurer, 1 Court St., Boston, Mass. Such donations would be deductible from Federal Income Tax, on the same basis as gifts to charitable organizations.

After acquiring this land, it is hoped the two small parcels not included in the ten acre purchase may be donated by their respective owners to the Trustees, with a view to protecting the natural beauty of this entire rhododendron plantation, and preserving it as a permanent reservation for posterity.

FARM STREET
DOVER, MASSACHUSETTS

Nov. 4, 1934.

My dear Mrs. Farley: -

I have sent the following letter to the presidents of the garden clubs from which we hope to form a class and have had enthusiastic reports from all except the North Shore Club. There has not been time for a reply from them. I talked informally with Mrs. Shaw ^{of that club} and she was much in favor of the idea. The letter: -

As a member of the Horticultural Committee of the Vermont Garden Club I am writing to you about a class for "advanced" gardeners" which I hope to see formed among the fine garden clubs near Boston which belong to the Garden Club of America. I have already talked with at least one member of each club, all of whom are anxious to see the class materialize. The first clubs making up the class would be Chestnut Hill, Milton, Cohasset, North Shore and Vranett.

The class would be restricted to around twelve members, preference being given to the horticultural committees. The larger club would have an extra representation.

The expenses of the class would be borne partly by the clubs in proportion to their representation and partly by those taking the course. In this way an obligation would be put upon each member of the class to accomplish something for her respective club. She would also be required to pass on what she had learned to any club member needing the information.

I have talked with those in charge at the Walltham Experiment Station and with several at the Arnold Arboretum, all of whom think the idea very feasible provided the class is really restricted in number. Thus each member will be able to do real laboratory work in the preparation of cuts, the making of difficult cuttings and whatever else it may be decided upon to study.

There would be six sessions of the class in January and February.

I should like to call a meeting of the Horticultural chairmen of each club at Horticultural Hall at Lincoln's Club on Friday, Nov. 9th following an executives meeting at the same place which most of these may be attending.

If you favor this idea will you please turn this letter over to your horticultural chairman so that we may continue with plans for our course of study, instructors, and places of meeting.

Very truly yours etc -

Mrs. F. O. Houghton, president of the Wilton Garden Club called me up as soon as she received the letter. She will present the matter to her club to around
Nov. 5th and she is much in favor of it.

Mrs. P. Laurence Oliver, president of the Colony Club also wants the class and so does Mrs. Clement J. Houghton of Westport Hill so I think the outlook is very favorable.

Sincerely,

Katharine S. Taylor.

After a tribute to the new president, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Rogers turned over the meeting to her.

Mrs. Evans said that in order to help the Programme Com. she would like expressions of opinion on the types of meetings preferred. — The suggestions were: —

Mrs. Evans suggested that we hold a Flower Show & plant sale combined in the spring. After much discussion it seemed to be the feeling of the Club that we have a plant sale this year but not a flower show.

Mrs. Evans suggested that we raise money by opening the Howarth gardens to the public as Milton does.

Mrs. John S. Taylor suggested that we have

Nov. 4, 1936 plants for sale at the various gardens on the day that they are open.

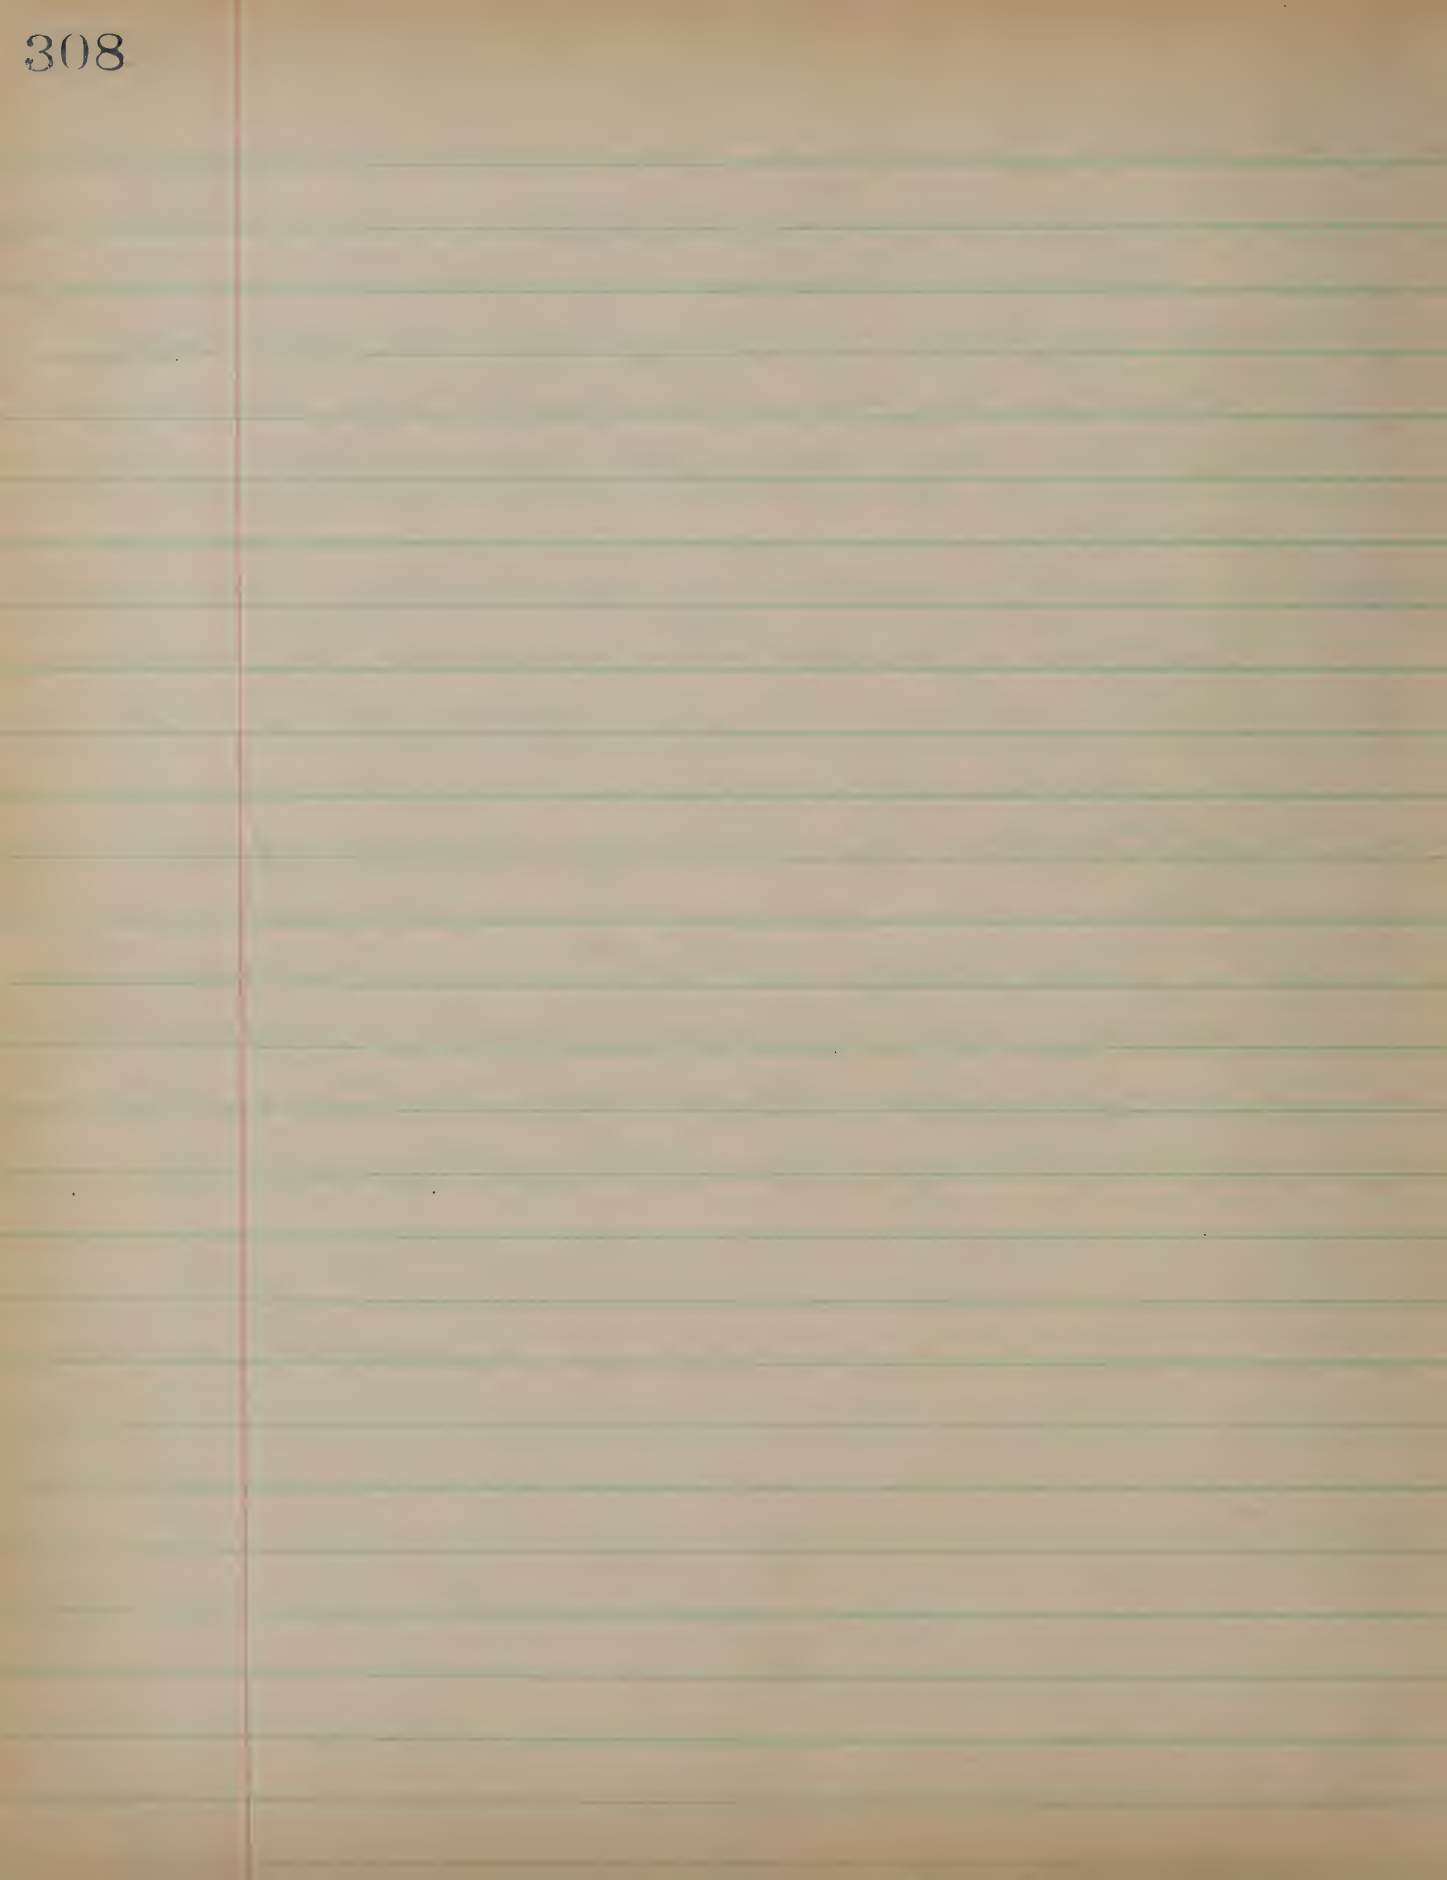

Mrs. A. H. Purdon suggested that we bring our own plants to the plant sale, sell them ourselves on our individual card tables and in that way we would procure better plant material.

Nov. 20

Meeting of the Executive Committee at the home of Mrs. Evans, at 11 A.M. - Friday, November 20th. Mrs. Evans presiding - Present. Mrs. Henry Brooks, Mrs. Henry Lyman, Mrs. Francis Bird, Miss Peabody, Mrs. Felix Parkman, Mrs. Lawrence Hemenway, Miss Margaret Warren, Mrs. Parkman Howe, Mrs. Charles Cabot, Mrs. John Taylor, and Mrs. Charles Lyman and Mrs. Harold Budd.

The meeting opened with the reading of the minutes of the last executive meeting held on Nov. 4 - 1936. Mrs. Evans asked also for the reading of suggestions, thirteen in number, which were made, at the annual meeting, for next year's program by various members of the club.

Mrs. Evans then called in turn upon each chairman to report for her committee.

Mrs. How, for the program, stated that she had secured four members to serve with her, -

Mrs. George Davis, Mrs. John S. Davis, Mrs. Edwin S. Davis and Mrs. Paul Cabot. She reported that several members have already offered to entertain the club next year. Mrs. Henry Lyman suggested having a lecture, at the mid-winter meeting (Jan. 27) with slides and she recommended one on "^{Spanish} Water and Shadow" or being of great interest. in Mallorca"

Mrs. How welcomed suggestions and the following were made -

- 1) Lecture by Mr. Winthrop Parkard on Birds
- 2) G. C. U. slides (which must be picked out with great care.)
- 3) Arboretum slides, which Mrs. Symon said are very fine, but the man who shows them a poor speaker.
- 4) Get more members from other clubs to speak on special subjects
- 5) One overnight "jaunt", not two (perhaps to Newport)
- 6) Talks by our own members on their specialties.
(Mrs. Soring)
- 7) One Conservation Meeting
- 8) Questions and mistakes at one meeting
- 9) That the midwinter meeting on Jan. 27th. should begin at three o'clock, with business followed by program.

Mrs. Howe reported that Mrs. Dubue had offered to have tea for the club, should we visit the Rhododendron Swamp. It was thought best to omit the visit to the Swamp this year and go instead to Rose Hill, probably on June 2. The date for a plant sale was discussed - May 5th. was thought too early and June 14th. considered a better time.

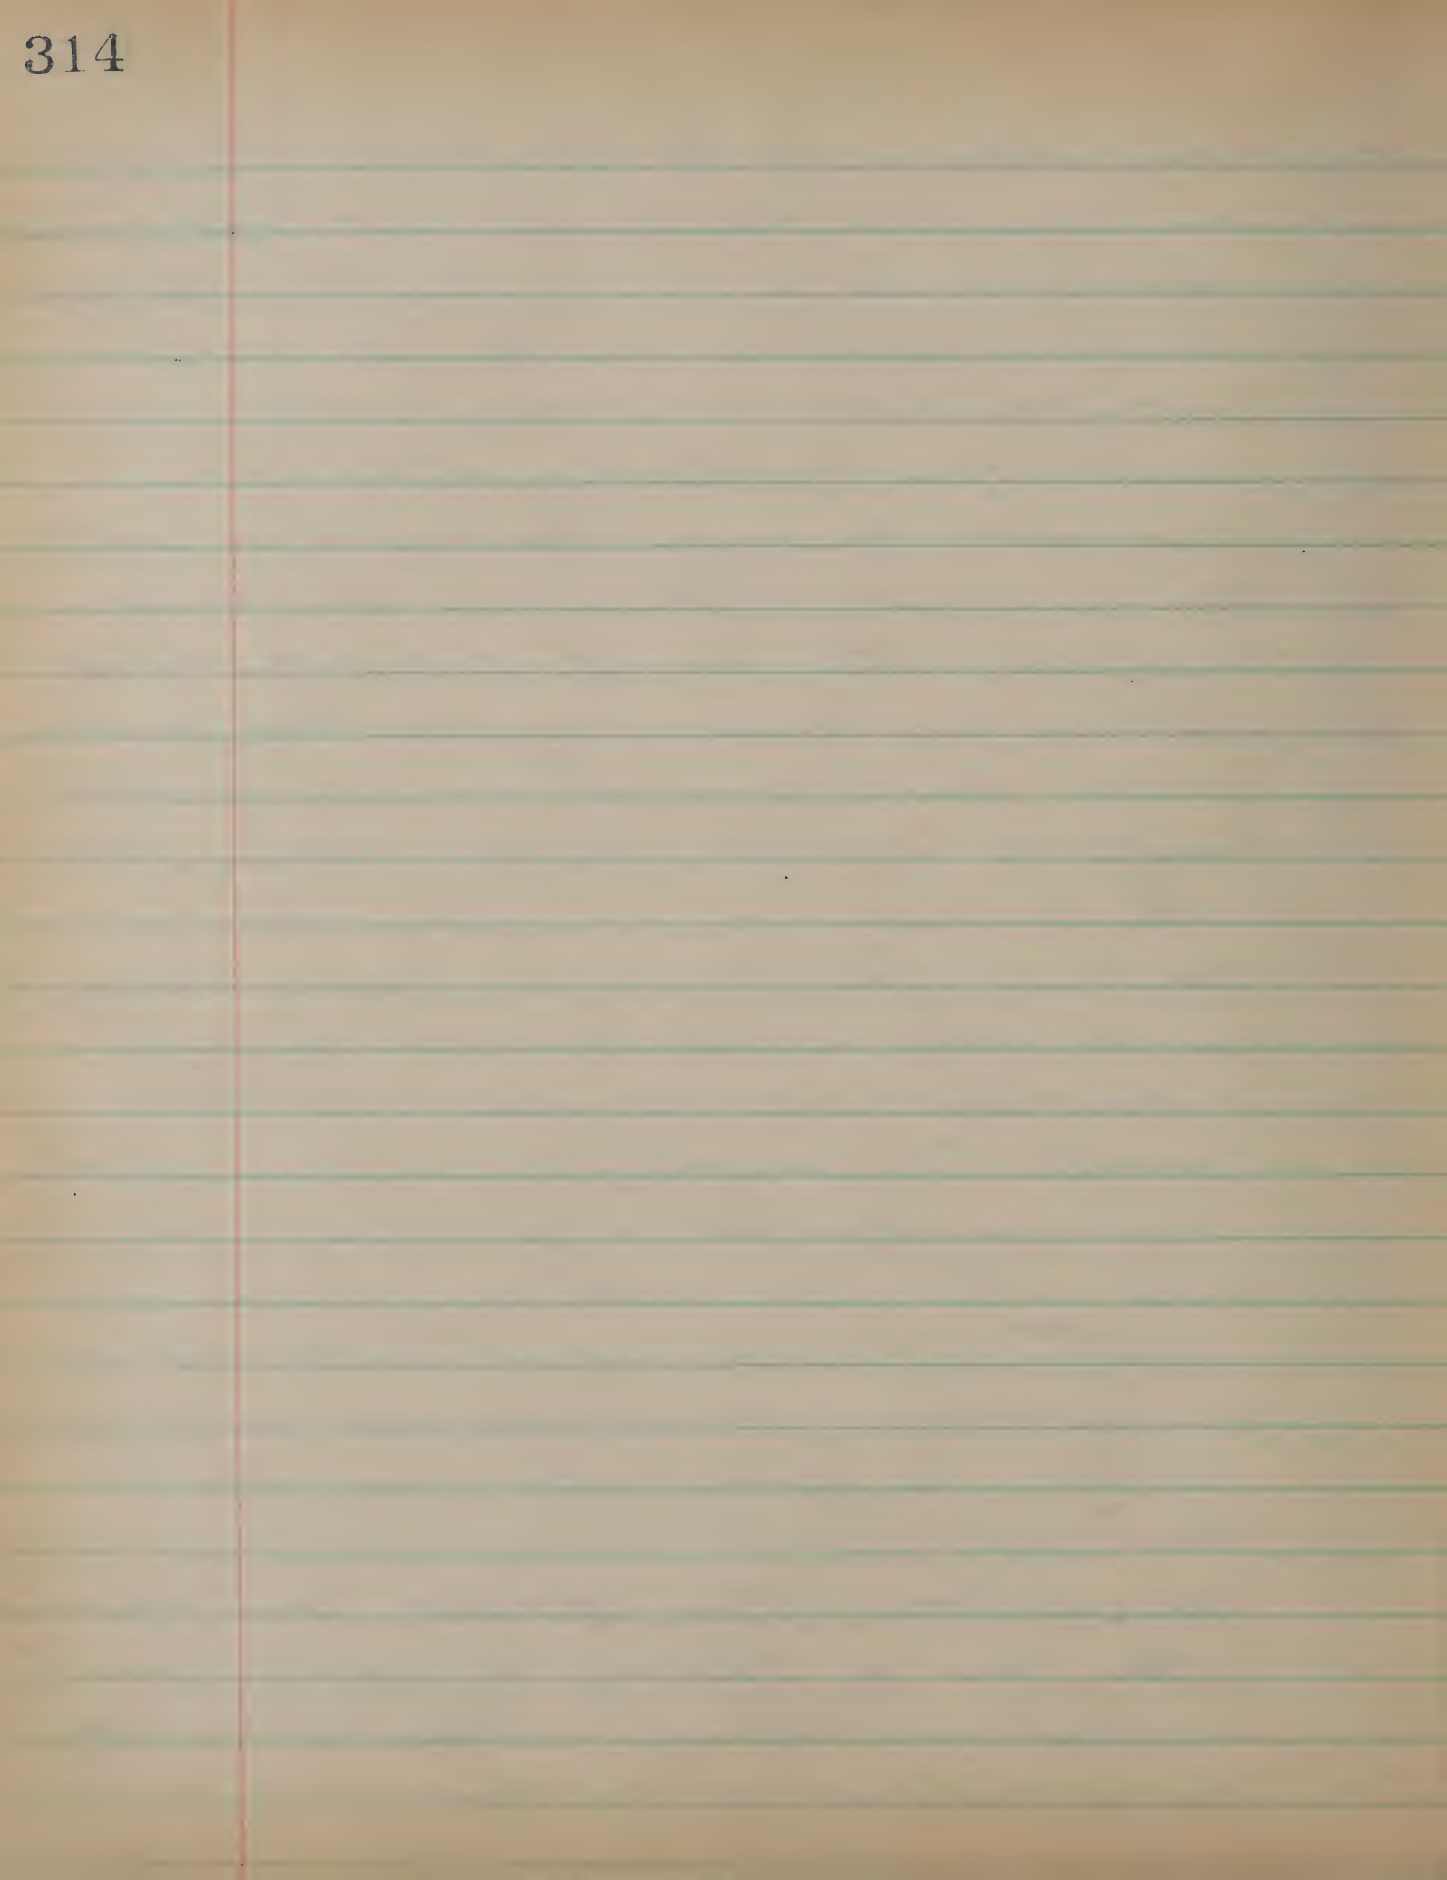

Mrs. Rockswold, for the Admissions Com. reported our resignation, that of Mrs. George R. Lyassie, and several names on the waiting list - Mrs. Wain asked Mrs. Rockswold to look into the possibilities of the latter and to report at the next meeting of the Executive Committee.

Miss Peabody, chairman of the Plant Com. said that she had not yet chosen the other members of her committee, but will report at the next meeting - Mrs. Seymour suggested that plants or trees which the members have in quantities might be exchanged, the owner sharing profits with the club.

Mrs. Evans asked for a show of hands - those who ^{wished} a plant sale in connection with the opening of gardens and those who wished them to be separate - The majority preferred them separate. It was suggested that a plant sale might be held at one of the gardens being shown - Mrs. ^{Warren} ~~Rockswold~~ moved having tickets sold at a central place, where a plant sale might also be held - A possible date, May 26th. was discussed.

All members of the Executive Com. approved of the idea of showing a group of downtown gardens next Spring, as has been done so successfully in Milton.

Mrs. Bird reported for the Bulletin Com. and Mrs. Evans asked that members be urged to send in contributions.

Mrs. Humeaway has not made up her ^{Horticultural} Com.
as yet, but will do so before the next meeting.
She asked if members should be asked again, to bring in special plants or flowers, to the meeting. This was approved of by the Ex. Com.
Mrs. Humeaway reminded us that our plant experiments are slow - and time is needed for results.

Mrs. Charles Cabot reported for the Fair that to be held March 12-13-14, our space this year to be 18 ft. x 18 ft. Mrs. Cabot outlined her plans and gave tentative estimates of expense, those of forcing still being undetermined.

Mrs. Evans asked Mrs. Charles Syme to take charge of the "Open Gardens" day. Mrs. Syme said that she would be away for most of the winter, but would send a report of her plans to be read at the January meeting.

Mrs. Evans made a tentative list of gardens which might be opened next spring - after which the meeting adjourned at 12.45

Executive
Com. Meeting
Jan. 18
1937

Meeting of the Executive Committee at the home of Mrs. Evans on Monday, January 18th. at 11 A.M.

The president, Mrs. Evans, presided and ten members were present, - Mrs. Henry⁹ Brooks, Mrs. Parkman D. Hour, Mrs. Felix Parkman, Mrs. Charles F. Lyman, Mrs. Robert M. Tappan, Mrs. Walter Hunnewell, Miss Amelia Peabody, Mrs. George D. Dutton, Mrs. Lawrence Hemenway, and Mrs. Harold G. Arnold.

The ~~business~~ opened with the reading of the minutes of the last executive meeting held on November 20th. 1936.

Mrs. Evans then called for a report from Mrs. Hour, who outlined her plans for the new program. A general discussion followed, many suggestions were made and much satisfaction was expressed over Mrs. Hour's plans for the coming year.

For the Admissions Committee, Mrs. Parkman reported two vacancies to be filled - Miss Sylvia Warren's resignation was accepted with regret, and it was agreed that Mrs. J. Cameron Bradley of Southboro be invited to join the club. This brings the total membership of the club ninety-nine, with five names on the waiting list, these being Mrs. Roger Conant, Mrs. Royal Smith, Mrs. William Bayne, Mrs. Floyd Brace and Mrs. George T. Rice. Mrs. Evans read a letter from Miss Sylvia Warren recommending Mrs. Rice as one who is particularly interested in horticulture and in the work that the Woman's Club is doing. It was the feeling of the Executive Committee that, with these qualifications Mrs. Rice should be asked to join. Mrs. Rice's name was seconded by Miss Peabody and sponsored by Mrs. Hemenway. Mrs. Henry Symon moved and Mrs. Brooks seconded that Mrs. Rice become a member.

Miss Peabody was asked to report for the Plant Committee. She has met with no enthusiasm, as yet, for a Plant Sale. She has made inquiries about the last one held at the Dedham Community House, when $200.00 was made. Those in charge of it felt that the sale had not been well patronized by our own members.

It was suggested that plants be on sale at the entrance of gardens to be visited in the Spring.

Mrs. Charles Symon reported that May 25 has been chosen for the "Open Gardens" day, and if that day should prove to be rainy, on May 26th. The gardens have been divided into four groups, - the Fox Hill Group, Dedham, Wellesley and Needham, and Dorr - The tickets are to be 1.00 (this admitting to all gardens, 15 in no.) and will be on sale at a central place and also at each entrance. It was suggested that small maps be made, arrows placed on the roads and girl guides be provided, if necessary, to pilot people about. Mrs. Hunnewell, who has acted as one of the latter previously, felt that this proved rather futile. Mrs. Chas. Symon suggested that tables of articles, such as garden accessories be on sale, 15% of the profit going to the club - The question of refreshments was discussed. Mrs. Symon has talked with Mrs. Spalding of Milton, who says that serving luncheon on the few garden days adds substantially to the success of the project. She advised no, as it is our first year to work up gradually to this point - This was, apparently, all that necessary to spur the committee on to a supreme effort, Mrs. Walter Hunnewell generously offered to have lunch served at her house, and said also that a plant sale might be held in her barn, if desired.

It was suggested that all Garden Clubs to send notices of this affair early in April. Mrs. Evans read a letter from the Founder's Club, asking for suggestions as to the expenditure of the income from the Elizabeth Price Martin Memorial fund, - a sum of about $800.00. A worthy cause seemed that of restoring (replacing) the trees on the historic old Fore House ^{estate} in Waltham. Mrs. Evans read a letter from Mr. Reynolds urging our continued support in fighting the Dutch Elm disease. In view of our large contribution of $1000.00 last year, the committee felt that we could do no more just now. A notice was given of the New York Flower show and also of the meetings to be held in Texas.

The meeting adjourned at 12.45
Helen H. Arnold, Rec. Secy.

1937

Jan. 27

The first regular meeting of the club was held at three o'clock on January 27th. 1937 at the home of Mrs. Henry Syme, with the president, Mrs. Evans, in the chair and forty-one members present.

The treasurer, Mrs. Syme, reported cash on hand in the treasury $1877.00.

Mrs. Dutton reported for Mrs. Charles Syme, who is chairman of the Committee for the "Four Gardens" day. This is to be on May 25 - and fifteen gardens, divided into four groups, are to be visited. Mrs. Hummell has offered to have lunch served at her place and the committee is getting estimates from Seilers, the Peddler, Community House and others. A general discussion followed Mrs. Fulton's report.

Miss Peabody, for the plant Com. said that Mrs. Hummell had also offered to have a plant sale, in connection with "few gardens" day. In addition to this, there will be plants on sale at the entrance to each place - where there may be material of special interest available. Miss Peabody, reminded us that plants in flower are more salable than merely "leafy prospects".

Mrs. Charles Cabot reported her plans for the Spring Flower Show and explained the model she has made on a small scale, also a plan of the pool. This, if made of cement, would cost $40.00 but might be sold afterward. The club approved of this plan.

Mrs. William B. Parker showed the model of house garage and plot of land, this being one of the projects for the flower show and members were urged to enter for this class in competition.

Mrs. Lawrence Humenway, for the Horticultural Committee, suggested an exchange of plants

Mrs. Evans spoke of two resignations which have been accepted with regret. - That of Miss Sylvia Warren and Mrs. George Agassiz - Mrs. J. I. Cameron Bradley and Mrs. George to Rice have been invited to join the club, to fill these vacancies.

Mrs. Evans asked the approval of the club that we suggest to the committee in charge of the Elizabeth Price Martin Memorial Fund - that this year's #800.00 → income of $800.00 be devoted to restoring the trees on the 2,000 acres in Waltham. Four other New England clubs are to join in this request.

Voted

That this suggestion be made.

The New York Flower Show was spoken of and an invitation to N.C.A. members for the luncheon on March 17th. @ $3.00 a ticket; was read.

Mrs. Evans then introduced Miss Lucy Cabot who spoke gave an informal talk, with slides of "Sunshine and Shadow in Mallorca" - after which tea was served.

1937

The second regular meeting of the Club was held on March 24th. 1937 at the home of Mrs. H. Wendell Eudicott in Dedham. Mrs. Evans presided and there were 36 members present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved after the making of one correction by Mrs. Hunnewell.

Mrs. Evans spoke of the recent Spring flower show held at Mechanics Hall, March 12th. - 18th. and of two prizes having been won by Rosanett Club members. In Class F, for "The Enclosed Garden", a second was awarded, honors going to Mrs. Charles C. Cabot and her committee. Reference was made to the charm of their design and beauty of the plant material used. A first prize was ^{awarded} to Rosanett in Class IV, (Mrs. Arnold) this being "a scale model of a small place". The place chosen was Bermuda.

Mrs. Evans said that three projects are being considered by the Founders' Fund officers, our suggestion, discussed at our last meeting, being one of them.

Mrs. Margaret Warren read a letter from Mrs. Thorne, ~~the~~ stating that the privilege of visiting gardens had been abused, and asked that all club members take the required credentials with them when visiting, to avoid confusion.

Mrs. Peabody reported plans for the coming Plant Sale to be held at Mrs. Hunnewell's on May 25.

and said that twenty-two members had promised to supply plants. She would be glad of more violas, may-flower-verbenas - also wild flowers would be welcomed - as well as vegetable plants. The House and Garden Centre is to have articles for sale, 15% of the proceeds going to the club. Mrs. Evans urged all members to help Miss Peabody and her committee in this work.

At a recent Conservation meeting the hope was expressed that we send a young person to the Nature Camps for training, as we did with such good results last year. Mrs. Hunnewell and Mrs. Wilkinson both voiced their approval of this plan, also Mrs. Rogers who felt that it would be better to send another student, rather than the same one who went before.

Voted

It was voted that a student be sent to the Nature Camps this year.

There being no further business, Mrs. Evans then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Lawrence B. Fletcher, who talked on "The Importance of Birds to your Garden", showing slides of great beauty, also maps and charts depicting the vast distances covered by birds in migration.

During the tea hour Mr. Fletcher was besieged with questions, proving that we have many bird lovers among our club members.

It was not long before the ^{last} guests finally tore themselves away.

Helen H. Arnold, Recording Secretary

He gave not only a vivid and fascinating picture of their habits, but also the romance and the marvel of bird life, assuring us that it has been proved by scientists that without them the world would be absolutely barren and devoid of any growth whatever. His invitation to visit his bird sanctuary at Cohasset on any Saturday morning in Spring was received with such evident enthusiasm that a migration of Wommet members in that direction seems probable. During the tea hour Mr. Fletcher was besieged with questions and it was six o'clock before the last guests departed.

The third regular meeting of the club was held on April 7th. at the home of Mrs. Ralph Savell in Westwood, Mrs. Evans presiding and thirty-nine members being present.

The business opened with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved after one addition suggested by Mrs. Palfrey.

Mrs. Charles Symon reported for the Open Gardens day to be held on May 25th. plans for the success of which are already well organized and under way. Mrs. Symon showed an attractive little basket, one of a hundred she had bought, suggesting that they be filled with flowers or plants and sold for a quarter. Mrs. Loring offered to donate material for this purpose. Mrs. Evans urged us to "Bring plants, buy plants and bring friends" on May 25th.

Mrs. Humeau asked ^{for} suggestions for the name of a student to be sent by the club to the Watere Camp - Co. last year, the one chosen was from Sheron, it was thought advisable to find someone this year from Medfield, if possible.

Mrs. Charles Cabot spoke of plants left from the Flower Show being still available, including dogwoods, laburnums and other desirable material.

For the Horticultural Committee, Mrs. Humeau urged all members who had not filled out the questionnaire concerning to do so as soon as possible.

Ap. 7

As there was no further business, Mrs. Evans then introduced Mr. Edwin L. Howard of Westport Conn. Mr. Howard was to have spoken on "Constructive Ideas for the Garden" but because of a serious accident to his hand, he was obliged to give up this talk which retailed the drawing of many sketches, and gave us instead, a lecture on "Chinese Gardens, showing interesting pictures of taken ten years ago, when he and a group of four architects friends were traveling in the Orient. Mr. Howard spoke of the Chinese feeling for color, being convinced that we might learn much from them in this respect. He had, however, noted with pleasure Mrs. Powell's delightful entrance color scheme of light blue and yellow, this in China being the symbol of the new year. The Chinese realize the value of color in their gardens in winter, when flowers are gone and trees are bare. They are daring in their use of red - in walls and gates and steps. We were urged to respect the old red bare and not to change its paint, in so called renovation.

The underlying motive in all Chinese gardens is to "highlight and intensify the natural beauties of nature", a good sound basis, he maintains, for all garden construction.

At the close of Mr. Howard's talk the meeting was adjourned after which tea was served. Helen H. Arnold, Rec. Secy.

April 21

The fourth regular meeting of the Club was held on April 21st at the home of Mrs. George Tabory, in West Medfield. Mrs. Evans presided and there were members present, also several guests. The president found it difficult to call the meeting to order, the members being quite fascinated with their surroundings, an ancient barn transformed into a most delightful and interesting house.)

The business of the day opened with an urgent plea from Mrs. Evans that we all, if possible attend the annual meeting of the Mass^{ts} Horticultural Society to be held on May 4th. Mr. Webster who, for many years, has ably served as president, is now faced with an opposing candidate and it is feared that this meeting may be packed with the latter's supporters. Our ballots are urgently desired.

Mrs. Evans reported that Mrs. Hunsweill has found a student who will be sent by the Club to the Nature Camp this summer.

Plans for the flower garden's day on May 25th. were discussed, and it was suggested that each member be asked to dispose of two tickets - Mrs. Evans called for a show of hands, and the fixing was apparently unanimous, that we follow this suggestion. Mrs. Charles Symon, chairman of the Committee on arrangements said that she would like to have some idea of how many to cater for for the luncheon.

April 21st. We were reminded by the president of a suggestion made last spring to the Program Committee, - that we consider giving a play at one of our meetings. Certain members of the Club, it seems, have been bestirring themselves in this direction and, although no announcement can be made as yet, it is hoped that the plan now being worked upon, will materialize in the fall.

This completing the business for the day, Mrs. Evans introduced our past-president, Mrs. Edward W. Grew who read to us a most delightful paper, vividly picturing for us our recent experience of attending the Garden Club of America pilgrimage to Mexico. Mrs. Miss Williams added an interesting account of two days on which she and Mrs. Grew went in different directions, days which were full of events delightfully described, after which moving pictures, taken of this trip by Mrs. Norman Harrower of the Fitchburg Garden Club, were shown.

When the meeting adjourned for tea, we all felt saturated with the sunshine, color, charm and mystery of Mexico and many expressed the feeling that our favorite speakers are among our own club members -

April 28 Executive meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held at Mrs. Evans' house on Wednesday, April 28th. at 10.30 A.M. the following members being present, - Mrs. White, Mrs. Charles Syman, Mrs. Henry Syman, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Hurnswell, Miss Peabody, Miss Warren and Mrs. Arnold.

Mrs. Evans presided, asking first for the Secretary's report of the last meeting, which was read and approved.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Henry Syman, reported a balance on hand of $1511.26. This was followed by a general discussion of flower show expenses, which seemed unduly large, being at present $310.85, with a prospect of it becoming as high as $400.00 when all bills are paid. Last year the cost was $227.59. Mrs. Evans asked for an expression of opinion, and many members of the Board felt strongly that we were not justified in spending this increasing large amount each year. Mrs. Henry Syman moved that we recommend to the Club that we do not enter the large Garden Club competition in next year's Spring flower show - A show of hands proved this feeling to be unanimous, except for Mrs. Evans, who is reluctant to have Everett drop out for a year.

May 5th.

The fifth regular meeting of the club was held on May 5th. at Mrs. J. Wells Farley's home in Needham. Mrs. Evans presiding and forty-eight members being present. The business opened with the reading of the secretary's minutes, which were accepted. Information was asked concerning the recent election of the Mass. Hort. Society's president. An overwhelming majority of votes for Mrs. Webster was reported.

Mrs. Charles Symon reported the gift of 75 young azalea plants from Mrs. John Jones.

Gardens Opened in Wellesley, Dover

Visiting Day Arranged by Noannet Club

Buffet Luncheon Served On Mrs. Walter Hun- newell's Estate

By PAULINE WARREN

This merry month of May is proving to be an important one for the many lovely gardens in and around Boston. Closely following the visiting days of the North Shore Garden Club, the Beacon Hill Garden Club and the Milton Garden Club, was the similar affair yesterday that was arranged by Mrs. David J. Evans, president of the Noannet Garden Club, and Mrs. Frederick C. Lyman, chairman of the committee, when 15 gorgeous gardens in Wellesley, Dover, Dedham, Needham and Westwood were opened to enthusiastic groups of garden pilgrims.

The garden clubs have been fortunate in their choice of days for these pilgrimages, and yesterday was no exception with its cloudless blue skies and brilliant sunshine. From eleven o'clock in the morning until six in the afternoon, the pilgrims wandered about admiring the superb gardens.

A pleasant feature of the pilgrimage was the buffet luncheon at Mrs. Walter Hunnewell's Wellesley estate, served on the terrace overlooking the blue waters of the lake. Here, also, Miss Amelia Peabody had charge of a sale of seedlings, plants and garden accessories of every description. Assisting her were Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. Henry Lyman, Mrs. Leslie Soule and Mrs. Augustus Parker. Busily taking tickets at the entrance was Mrs. Harold G. Arnold, who wore a broad-brimmed hat of shell pink with her flowered crepe frock.

All along the driveway were masses of rhododendrons that will be ablaze with color in June. Swaying lightly in the grass were starry white narcissus, and copper beeches lent a contrast to the soft green everywhere. One of the interesting features of this estate was the unusual topiary garden with its ancient yews and cedars clipped into fantastic shapes. Carved in the stone steps leading down to the lake is the date 1854. Also outstanding is the conservatory adjoining the rambling white mansion. Here were azaleas of every hue and enormous yellow and white trees of feathery acacia, as well as countless other gorgeous blooms.

The next stop made by the visitors was at the adjoining gardens of Mrs. F. Murray Forbes and Mrs. Hugh Scott, also in Wellesley. Seated under a spreading tree in a fork in the road between these two estates and directing the visitors was Mrs. J. Gardner Bradley, who topped her apricot silk tailored frock with a beige caped coat. With her were two well-mannered little scotties.

"Deskrie," the Forbes estate, is surrounded by lofty cathedral pines, and situated on a hilltop overlooking the winding Charles River, which sparkled in the sunlight. Flowering dogwood trees were delicately silhouetted against the green, and beds of gay tulips made a gay note of color.

Mrs. Hugh Scott, wearing a wide-brimmed hat with her print frock, greeted the pilgrims on the terrace in front of her charming red brick house. Her garden of exquisite spring blooms was surrounded by velvety sloping lawns, and at one end was a deep blue pool, fringed with lacy ferns.

Journeying out to Dover, the visitors feasted their eyes upon the beauty of Mrs. Walter Channing's stunning formal garden, which was guarded at the entrance by two tall cedars as straight as sentinels. Here the long shadows of late afternoon slanted across the emerald lawn and closely clipped hedges. Surrounding a sun-dial was a bed of purple and white iris, and huge lilac bushes sent out the fragrance of their mauve and white blossoms. Mrs. Channing, wearing a red and white scarf with her white frock, was reclining on a chaise longue on the terrace.

Mrs. William A. Whitcomb's attractive garden in Dedham was reached by a long, winding driveway. Here were glowing tulips and arbores entwined with rambler roses that will be in their full glory in another month. The Welsh gardener proudly pointed out the magnificent hedge of lilacs bordering the garden, and Mrs. Whitcomb, wearing a knitted frock of coronation blue, was receiving the many compliments of the visitors, as they wandered about. Assisting her in receiving the guests was Mrs. Loring Conant.

The last garden we visited was that of Mrs. H. Wendell Endicott just around the corner. Flowering dogwood bordered the long driveway up to the imposing house of white-washed brick. Grouped on the terrace were chairs of palest blue with plump cushions of lemon yellow, making an exquisite color combination. Near the house is a rustic pergola covered by a wisteria vine just bursting into masses of lavender bloom.

Flagstones led to a charming rock garden landscaped on a slope, and from there tiny arrows pointed to the tulip garden where tulips shaded from deep garnet red to pale rose, mauve and creamy yellow, and in each corner was a veritable tree of fuchsias. A wrought iron gate opened out on a woodland path carpeted by soft brown pine needles and edged with azaleas of every shade, ferns, velvety pansies, lilies-of-the-valley and forget-me-nots. A pond upon which water lily pads floated, mirrored the tall trees and blue sky and was spanned by a little bridge near where a tiny waterfall cascaded among the rocks. Seated on a huge gray boulder was a figure of Pan playing his pipes, and in all this stillness and peace a hermit thrush sang his sweetly plaintive song. Mr. Endicott was strolling through his garden obligingly answering the many questions asked by the visitors.

Lack of time prevented us from visiting the other gardens on the list, and among them were those of Mrs. John I. Taylor and Mrs. Charles Harding in Dedham; Mrs. Lindsey Loring, Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge, Mrs. Frederick Converse and Mrs. Ralph Lowell in Westwood; Mrs. Edward Grew, Mrs. Arthur Adams and Mrs. Arthur E. Davis in Dover; Mrs. William Baltzell in Wellesley and Mrs. John Wells Farley in Needham.

r, Dedham, Needham and Westwood

these to be dug as ordered and the profit to be added to the plant sale proceeds. Mrs. Henry Lyman offered to take charge of these orders and is also herself donating some young trees from her own place.

Mrs. Evans then brought up the question of the next Spring Flower Show - Because of the increasing cost of entering this annual competition, it has been suggested by some of our members that we might skip a year - After a general discussion Mrs. Evans asked for a show of hands, this indicating that the club was almost evenly divided in its feeling in this matter. 20 for, 18 against. Mrs. Williams suggested that we take time to consider this problem at great length and decide a little later.

Notice was given of the Golden Throat Bazaar held and Christal Hill Sun garden, and Miss Buckley spoke of a concert to be given in aid of the Fundamentals - will Fund on May 18th.

At the conclusion of the above business some delightful garden slides were shown and presented by Mrs. Williams, depicting "Architectural Features and Small Gardens" after which tea was served and a stroll around Mrs. Fairley's lovely place was enjoyed. The warblers, hummers, butterflies and many other spring flowers bordering the brook, were in their prime. The only flaw in the program was the absence of the hostess - who was obliged to be away.

Helen H. Arnold, Rec. Secy

May 19

The sixth regular meeting of the club was held at the Arnold Arboretum on the afternoon of May 18th. In spite of a threatening rain, about twenty members arrived and, thanks to Mrs. Hour's arrangements, were allowed to drive through, a guide explaining trees and shrubs of special interest. The lilacs and azaleas were just beginning to bloom - also many beautiful white dogwood. At the conclusion of our "tour", we went to Mrs. Samuel Cabot's for tea where several other members joined us. There was no business - and we missed Mrs. Coates, who was at St. Louis attending the Garden Club of America meeting. After our driving Mrs. Cabot's steaming samovars looked most attractive - Also, her beautiful flower arrangement of dogwood and solomon seal were much appreciated.

Worsett Visiting Gardens Day -
May 25, 1937

Perfect weather favored us on our first Visiting Gardens Day, and the venture proved to be a decided success. Mrs. Symon, Chairman, reports as follows.

On May 25th the Worsett Garden Club had its Open Gardens Day. Fifteen gardens were visited and the attendance was more than we had dared to hope for. Each garden had at least 60 guests, some many more. $42.86 was made. The plant sale and lunch for 250 were held at Mrs. Walter Himmewells' in Wellesley. After all bills were paid and small incidentals settled we found ourselves $1.00 to the good. We had not expected to make on the lunch, only prayed fervently to come out even! The total made for lunch and gardens was $42.86. I feel that this success was due to a large extent to Mrs. Dalton and her Committee who managed the publicity so efficiently. She procured for us more than $2.00 of free advertising. Y.abella Symon

Fifty five Roavett Club members and one

The only business brought up by Mrs. Howe was an announcement of plans for the trip to New York on June 30th. all arrangements having been carefully ~~arranged~~ ^{made} by our efficient program chairman, Mrs. Howe.

After a delicious luncheon served to our usually hungry crowd, a visit was made to the rose garden, just coming into its full beauty of bloom. A young elm, newly in March, to an important position beside the house, was also very much admired. The other garden visited were those of Mrs. William H. Parker, notable for its boxwood borders and a charming pleached apple walk, and that of Mrs. Wintthrop Ames, a place of rare charm and mellowness. Especially beautiful were the masses of laurel against a hillside, the wall enclosed lawn, with pool overarched by a magnificent Charles II. oak, the terraced formal garden and topiary garden, with lovely vistas at every turn - A place full of romance and feeling.

The wide sweeps of lawn and beautiful trees, another fine rose garden - and a refreshing tea were enjoyed at Mrs. John S. Ames's - which brought to an end a most memorable Club day.

The tenth regular meeting of the Rossett Club was held at Mrs. George Lewis Tr's house in Sherborn, on September 15th. forty-five members being present and several guests. Mrs. Evans presided, beginning the business with the reading of a letter from Mrs. Fiske, who described the old Gov. Gore place in Walltham and told of a plan to aid in its restoration, Each garden club member being asked to donate twenty-five cents to this fund. Rather than ask our members to give individually it was suggested that a sum be taken from our treasury. Upon motion of Mrs. Wilkstron, it was voted that a sum of $50.00 be sent as our contribution to this fund.

A notice was read of the National Federation of Garden Clubs to be held in Camden on Oct. 7, 8 and 9.

Mrs. Evans spoke of the next Spring Flower Show, which, after consideration, the Executive Committee have voted that Rossett should again enter. Mrs. Charles Cabot and Mrs. William H. Parker have generously consented to take charge of our exhibit.

Mrs. Henry Lyman suggested that a stated sum of money be given the committee, and a general discussion on this subject followed.

It was so voted -

Miss Warren read a letter from Mrs. Salsbery Thomas about Sociators. We were reminded by Miss Warren that our club Sociator may be found at the Fiddham Contentment Tea Room - This completing the business, Mrs. Evans turned the meeting over to Mrs. Dodge, who proceeded to call upon twelve of ^{our} members, who in turn told of interesting garden experiences of the past summer. H "Majic Carpet" took us first to Mrs. Harris' white garden, then to Mrs. Tappan's berry bearing shrubs, planted to attract the birds, - to Mrs. Wolcott's successful raspberries (well protected from the birds!), to Miss Purser's many varieties of flowers ^{and} to Mrs. Taylor's annual strawberries (with advice to try "Potolox" it "gits ever, known bug". Then, to Scandinavia with Mrs. Curtis, to Mrs. Water's salad garden, with its great variety of decoration as well as delectable little tomatoes - and to Mrs. Taylor's fringed geraniums - We were impressed with Mrs. James Perkins' energy in attending a summer school course in horticulture - (an exchange of nurseries) and we ended at Mrs. Richard Sallousta's, who after struggling with a garden for fourteen years, has now removed all the flower beds and has had a peaceful summer - - Tea was served - and Mrs. Lewis's lobby place was enjoyed, her masses of "Heavenly Blues" on a high wall, much admired.

The eleventh regular meeting of the club was held on September 29th. at Mrs. Henry P. Cabot, Jr.'s in Dore. Mrs. Evans presided and there were fifty one members present and three guests. After the reading of the records by the secretary of the last meeting, Mrs. Evans read a letter from Mrs. Stone asking for volunteers to decorate tables for the Federative luncheon to be held at the Statler Hotel. The chairman of the Conservation Committee, Mrs. Walter Hummerell told of the plans being made for the next meeting of this club - to be held in the evening at the Dore Town Hall. Tree wardens are to be the speakers, and husbands are invited to attend.

This plan ^{met} with much interest and anticipation.

There being no further business, Mrs. Evans then turned the meeting over to the Horticultural Committee. Mrs. Hummerway, the chairman, introduced the three speakers, Mrs. Bryan S. Permar of the Chestnut Hill Garden Club, Mrs. Charles T. Mills, president of the Milton Garden Club, (being a substitute for Mrs. Spalding who was unable to come,) and Mrs. Lucien B. Taylor of our own club.

Mrs. Permar and Mrs. Mills, who ~~each~~ reported of the work being done by the Horticultural Committee of their respective clubs, gave us many interesting suggestions and new ideas for extending our own activities in this field.

Mrs. Taylor's ^{subject} talk was "A Pit Garden", and her talk was augmented by the showing of a model, this being an exact replica, to scale, of her own pit in Dover, which is now becoming quite famous in horticultural circles. The story of its design, construction and use held us all fascinated, and her assurance that it was all very simple and easy, that it took only five minutes to put it to bed at night and to get it up in the morning, and that its cost was extremely low, made it seem a sound and practical venture. She did add that a husband - plus a college student had done most of the interesting, that we had barely noticed the hot house - so that we had quilted numerous large sacks of leaves for winter protection, as well as many other minor(?) jobs. She did not mention, however, the hours of careful planning which she must have given to the making of the pit. After the meeting adjourned on the way to Mrs. Cabot's tea table, the model pit was examined at close range and all its perfect little details were studied and admired. Mrs. Taylor assured us that she is constantly finding new things which may be grown in the pit and she is forging ahead with many fresh experiments, proving that she has the truly scientific approach to horticulture.

The twelfth regular meeting of the club was held on October 13th. at eight o'clock in the evening at the Town Hall in Dorchester. There were 36 members present and, as special guests, husbands and Tree Wardens. Mrs. Evans presided and after a few words of greeting, she read the list of twenty towns from which our club membership is drawn. Mrs. Hunnewell, chairman of the Conservation Committee, then took charge of the meeting, introducing the three speakers of the evening, - Mr. H. B. Reynolds, of the Massachusetts Forest and Park Association, Mr. Daniel G. Lacy, Tree Warden of Brookline, and Miss Emma Cummings of the Brookline Tree Planting Committee.

Mr. Reynolds spoke of the appalling waste of trees and of the misfortune of having to import so much of our lumber from the West coast. He urged the making use of the vast areas of idle land here in New England by the establishment of more town forests, citing Fitchburg as having been the first to try this venture.

Mr. Lacy stressed the advantage of having more varieties of trees planted along the streets in our cities and towns. In Brookline they have tried this experiment most successfully, having many different species such as the mountain ash, weeping willow, sweet gum and Chinese Elm in place of the fine but over-present maple. Tree wardens should be given more money for their work, which he considers of the utmost importance. He also explained the grave danger of lapsing in our fight against the ypsse, moth, a pest which we can never hope to entirely eradicate. It has already cost this country millions of dollars and the work must be constantly kept up.

The third and last speaker, Miss Cummings told of the work done by the Tree Planting Com. of Brookline. An outstanding example of their work may be seen at the junction of Hammond and sts. in Chestnut Hill, where a circle & bank are planted with fine specimens of flowering shrubs and trees. This committee hopes in time, to plant many more such circles, which add so much to the beauty of the town. She also told of a tree map which she & a friend had spent several years in making, of the Brookline trees and which is now published & available to those interested.

At the close of these three talks, many questions were asked, the main interests centering on pests and their eradication. The general gloom cast by this depressing subject was largely dispelled by the hot coffee, doughnuts and cider which were attractively served down stairs, by the light of candles, a cheerful crackling fire - and an efficient committee.

October 18
Executive
Meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held on October 18th. at Mrs. Evans house in Dover - the following members being present, Mrs. Evans, Taylor, Brooks, Arnold, H. Lyman, Hour, White, Peabody, W. Hunscomb, Hunscomb, Warren. The records of the last executive committee were read and approved, with one correction. The subject of attendance at meetings was discussed. It was proposed that Miss Katherine Howans be invited to rejoin the club as soon as a vacancy should occur. The suggestion was made that the new members should be introduced, when they joined the club.

Mrs. Evans then asked Mrs. Henry Lyman to give her treasurers report, which she did, with explanation of same. We now have $1600.00 in the bank, which included the proceeds of the Plant Sale of $774.00, & fees Gardeners. The budget for the coming year was discussed and it was decided that we recommend to the club the following donations

Mrs. Symon urged that we make use of our extra plant material, offering it for sale to other club members, and suggestions were made to Mrs. Himmeway, Hort. Ch. of ways in which this might be handled.

The president's expense fund was mentioned and it was felt by all members that we should use this $50. or so voted, to be used towards the expense of attending the meetings of the Garden Club of America.

Noanett Garden Club Plans Open Garden Day, May 25

Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge, Mrs. Francis W. Bird and Mrs. E. Roelker Curtis Members of Committees

During the early spring the east wind limits all floral display to florists' windows and ladies' hats! Next, the city dweller's interest in growing things is whetted by the appearance of crocuses and other flowering bulbs in front door plots. By the time the Public Garden has burst into bloom, even the keenest brick and pavement enthusiast is garden minded. Those who own an acre or two out of town hurry away to plant and dig; those who own a backyard city garden dwell on its possibilities with anticipation; and even those who do not know a cow from a cowslip welcome the news that the Noanett Garden Club, a member of the Garden Club of America, will hold "Open Garden Day" on Wednesday, May 25, from 11 o'clock until 6 o'clock and if rainy on Thursday, May 26.

Mrs. David J. Evans of Beacon street and Dover is president of the Noanett Garden Club—a club which is outstanding not only for the beauties of its many privately owned gardens, but also for its record for interest in and support of many public undertakings. At Enfield, for example, where a reservoir is being constructed, many rare wild flowers were threatened with destruction. Through the efforts of the Noanett Garden Club these wild flowers are being transferred to the Moose Hill Bird Sanctuary in Sharon, and a wild flower path is being laid out there which will be named for the club.

The Noanett Club helped to save the famous Medfield rhododendrons, and also contributes to the support of the Lowthorpe School of Landscape Architecture in Groton. Each spring the Noanett Garden Club arranges an exhibit at the flower show held by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. One of the spring meetings will be held at Gore Place in Waltham, as the Noanett Garden Club, together with numerous other Massachusetts garden clubs, is contributing to the restoration of the grounds surrounding this beautiful and historical Colonial mansion.

Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge of Chestnut street and Westwood is chairman of the "Open Garden Day" committee, and Mrs. Francis W. Bird of East Walpole is chairman of the luncheon committee. A box luncheon put up by the Brittany Coffee Shop, with hot and cold drinks, will be served at small tables at Mrs. Augustus Hemenway's house on Green street (off Blue Hill avenue), Canton, for a limited number. Those who wish to be sure of obtaining this luncheon would do well to purchase their luncheon tickets in advance through Mrs. Bird. Mrs. E. Roelker Curtis of Norfolk is chairman of publicity and Mrs. Leslie Soule of Dedham is assisting her.

Mrs. Lawrence Hemenway of Milton is among those who are opening their gardens on May 25. Sixteen gardens in all will be opened on that day, most of which have never been opened to the public before. One ticket admits the purchaser to all gardens and may be bought at any of the gardens.

There is scarcely a better way to learn how to produce distinguished and beautiful effects in a garden than by visiting successful gardens. Not all of the gardens to be opened will be large, some of them will be of the small and intimate type, but even the person who takes no interest in horticulture can derive a great deal of pleasure by merely wandering about and absorbing the freshness, fragrance and color

The sixth regular meeting was held on May 4th. at Waltham - Mrs. Arthur Lyman's beautiful old place was visited, then Gore House, followed by tea at Cedar Hill, with Mrs. Arthur Blake, Mrs. Henry Hinkley and Mrs. Mayosmith as hostesses. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Ross Baker made the following notes: - "A perfect day. -

1 guest weather, trees and different land elevations things that the landscape architect wants and thrills to find. Inside the house quantities of English ivies, used in most attractive manners, over and around potted plants, outlining alcoves and bay windows and always so green and fresh looking. -- Then to Gore House, with much to thrill the antique collector. Next to Cedar Hill where the meigs always attracts - and a delicious tea - -- apple blossoms and spring flowers - is full day.

General Committee for Dedham Horse Show

George T. Rice, chairman of the executive committee, announcing the Dedham Horse Show which is to take place again this year on Sunday and Monday (Memorial Day) May 29 and 30 at the Dedham Country Polo Club, is announcing a number of additional classes for this year.

The children's classes are scheduled for Sunday after the events for hunters and ponies to take place on Monday. During the latter afternoon there is to be one of the interesting classes—that will illustrate just how "hard" a hunter can be in the ring. The rider must walk his horse to the first fence, jump it over to the second and gallop the third, taking the second not the last, coming to a stop just before it. The rider must dismount, remove the wire from the top of the fence, remount and jump it again from a standstill. Next is a small pen forming an irregular out with a gate to be opened and shut and all sorts of hazards.

Among the innovations for this year are two new fences on the outside course, one of them called Aiken, as it was first there by Mr. and Mrs. The Hitchcock. The ditch has been widened considerably and is, besides, a gravel pit very similar to those used by the Irish cavalry. The polo pony classes have now all been amalgamated into one, though should the entry list be too long, they will be shown in two divisions.

The committee also announces that tea will be served during the latter part of both afternoons, while Mrs. Philip is planning a luncheon for Monday. Mrs. David H. Maynard is in charge of the box reservations, which are now on hand and may be obtained from 200 Village street, Dedham.

Herbert Bramwell Shaw's name has been added to the list of those on the show's executive committee, while among the many members of the general committee are Mr. and Richard Almy, Robert Almy, Mr. and Mrs. Philip R. Allen, Frank G. Allen, Mr. and Ross W. Baker, Mr. and Henry B. Cabot, Mr. and William Bayne, Mr. and Edward Cunningham, Mrs. lie B. Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Full day trip to Newburyport -

Mrs. Howe reports

... "Mr. Benjamin Moseley was most helpful in making plans for us to see Mrs. S.C. Funn's rock garden in the morning and then his own lovely place where he has done much planting of azaleas.
He also put us up at the Old Town Country Club where we had a delicious luncheon with the Club House beautifully decorated with flowers of the Ladies of the Newburyport Garden Club.

In the afternoon Mrs. Frederick Moseley's place, where the lawn was at its height of beauty. This brought us almost to sunset and tea at Mrs. George Clark's. A lovely day and much cordiality & kindness shown us at every possible opportunity."

15th.

The tenth regular meeting and the first of the fall season was held on Sept. 14th. at Miss Peabody's studio in Dorre. ~~and 3 hrs.~~ Mrs. Evans presided and thirty-three members were present.

Mrs. Syman reported no change in the club's treasury since the last meeting.

Mrs. William A. Parker told of plans for the Spring Flower Show and Mrs. Evans announced that Mrs. ^{Augusta} Parker and Mrs. James A. Perkins 2nd would have charge of the next Travett exhibit.

An appeal was made for members to enter the Christmas decorations competition to be held on Nov. 1st.

Mrs. Dodge told of the results of the Open Gardens Day held on May 25th. Although full reports of the various chairmen are not yet in, the general result of the affair was a distinct success people coming from a wide radius to see the 16 gardens open to the public.

Gate receipts netted a sum of $256.00 with expenses of $7.60.

Miss Peabody, for the plant sale, reported $240.00.

At the conclusion of the business, Mrs. Evans introduced, Mr. Herbert C. Brownell, of the Brownell Rose Research Gardens in Little Compton, Rhode Island.

After reading a short paper on the general rules for the planting and culture of roses, Mr.

Bronnell proceeded to give a practical demonstration of the work now being done at Little Crompton - by his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Walter Bronnell.

To produce the hardy, fragrant climbing roses, the sub-zero Hybrid teas and the creeping or trailing varieties with strength and beauty of color before unknown, is an achievement reached after thirty years' research work in hybridizing by a new scientific method. As, step by step, this process was explained and demonstrated by Mr. Bronnell, with the entire necessary equipment at hand, including the specially designed spaw, labels, pollen envelopes, brush, telephone bags a different color for each day + grafting knife, as well as buds, blossoms and root stocks, the club members watched with fascinated interest. The talk was concluded with a cordial invitation to visit the Little Crompton Gardens at any time - where the roses may be seen and plants purchased.

An added pleasure of the afternoon was the opportunity, during the tea hour which followed, of seeing some of Miss Peabody's beautiful work in sculpture.

Sept. 28
11th. meeting
1938

The eleventh regular meeting of the club was held on September 28th. at Mrs. I. Tucker Burr's in Milton, with 27 members present. With the tragedy of the hurricane and subsequent loss of many valuable trees, uppermost in everyone's minds, Mrs. Evans thanked those present for leaving their own places and coming to the meeting.

After the reading of the records by the secretary, Mrs. Symon reported a balance in the treasury Sept. 27 of $1652.03.

Mrs. Hunnwell, chairman of The Conservation Committee announced that the two speakers, who were to report on the Nature Camps, were unable to be present. The secretary read, however, an interesting letter from one of them, Mrs. Bates, describing her experiences at Lost River and thanking the club for giving her this opportunity which proved to be of great value.

Mrs. Hunnwell then introduced Mr. Backheister, Sec. and Treas. of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, who began his talk by explaining the work of the Mass. Conservation Council, started by J. W. Pawling. This ^{meeting} need for such a committee with a man at its head who knows wild life and its needs, and not a political goffer, was made plain to us by the staggering figures of 150,000 fowls in Mass. who annually take out hunting and fishing licenses. We were urged to bring proposals on conservation to the Council through our representative, Mrs. Spalding.

Mr. Backheister went on to explain some of the many activities of the Audubon Society - (which was not organized ~~to~~ solely to arrange bird walks!)

He told the dramatic story of the saving of the tower in 1901, of the Sanctuaries, now three in number, & also stressed the value of sending students to Nature Camps - and the help which garden clubs can render by assisting to defeat bad bills before the Legislature. He praised Rowett for the work done at Morse Hill and suggested a planting of more berry-bearing trees and shrubs.

At the close of the meeting tea was served, and tales of hurricane disasters were exchanged -

Oct. 5
12th. meeting
The twelfth regular meeting of the club was held on Oct. 5th. at Mrs. Ralph Lowell's in Westwood - Mrs. Evans presided and there were forty three members present, also three guests.

As there was no business to be transacted, Mrs. Evans introduced Mrs. Cindsey Loring, who gave a delightful talk on "Chrysanthemums", and the autumn garden - explaining that there are two kinds of autumnus - before and after frost - she aims for a repetition of color in the landscape, red, yellow and pinkish. Although the professional advises taking up plants in the fall and putting in the cold frame, Mrs. Loring leaves hers in the garden, covers lightly, and divides them in May. They need a good deal of sun and should be pinched off to proper size - requiring a lot of room (2 ft. apart) Soil not rich - but plants should be sprayed regularly with Bordeaux and wood when they first show color - For potting, full bloom should be waited for, having made their big effort then.

Mrs. Loring advised buying Persian, which are very hardy.

Bestiase gardens in Sharon were spoken of.

New England asters recommended were Harrington Pink (Baby pink) and H. red.

At the conclusion of the talk, tea was served at Mrs. Loring's house next door - and her lovely garden as well as view across the meadows to Blue Hill, enjoyed.

Oct. 26
13th
meeting

The 13th. regular meeting was held on Oct. 26th. at the home of Mrs. C. Minot Wild in Milton - Fort, two members and two guests were present. Mrs. Evans presided and the secretary's record was not read - but several notices were given - Attention was called to the annual meeting of the Mass Federation of Garden Clubs to be held tomorrow -

Members were urged to enter the Christmas decorations competition to be held at Hortic. Hall in November.

A letter was read from The Forest and Park Branch, calling our attention to the grave danger to our class, with the Dutch Elm disease now only 22 miles from our border - Our club was urged to donate money to help in the work of fighting this pest - we had previously given $300.00 - This will be noted on at our next meeting.

This concluding the business, Mrs. Evans introduced the chairman of our Horticultural Com mittee, Mrs. Hummersey, who had asked four of our members to speak -

Mrs. A. H. Parker

It 5¢ luncheon was served at Mrs. Augustus Hume's in Milton at 60¢. So few replies were received from cards sent out that it was impossible to plan for the correct number. 150 boxes were ordered 120 sold. Thanks to the generosity of Mrs. Francis W. Bird, the club did not lose by this, and the Mass. School for Crippled Children gained - for she sent the 4th lunch there, giving a group of 25 or 30 an unexpected picnic. Mrs. Dodge also reported that, due to Mrs. Curtis's hard work and publicity, 256 tickets were sold.

Visiting Gardens

Executive meeting at Mrs. Dodge's.

Present Mesdames Dodge, Hale, Sargent, Coleman, Howell, Dutton, Soaks, Lewis, Green and Arnold.

The business opened with a general discussion of plans for the "Open Gardens" day. The date chosen at the last meeting was found to conflict with that already taken by Chestnut Hill. It was therefore necessary to choose another day and it was voted that we take Friday, May 19th.

As Mrs. Lewis is to be away, Mrs. Saltwater is to be asked to have the luncheon at her place.

in New York and luncheon with Mrs. Williams, Ch. who explained the "step up" on Bill Board information sent to clubs, many firms, who do not advertise in this way, having been sent letters of protest. The meeting adjourned at 12 M.

1939

The third regular meeting of the club was held on April 12th. at the Paddock Country and Polo Club, with Mrs. E. Dwight Fullerton, Mrs. George E. Hall and Mrs. Joseph Morrill as hostesses. There were thirty-five members and one guest present. The business opened with the reading of the secretary's report which was approved, after which Mrs. Dodge stated for the Treasurer that $80.00 had been donated by members as a special contribution to defray expenses of labor on The Gore House project. She also reported that $300.00 has been awarded by the Garden Club of America, from the E. Price Martin Fund income, for development of the Gore House grounds. Mrs. Williams, who attended the meeting at which this subject was discussed, aroused the curiosity of the club members by intimating that exciting things happened, which she promised to tell us if later

Mrs. Frothingham having suggested that if the "row" was brought up, there would be no time left for the program.)

Mrs. Dodge spoke of the plans now under way for the Open Gardens Day, the date having been fixed for Friday, May 19th.

Donations of salads and sandwiches were solicited from members, in the hope that the luncheon might be made a source of profit rather than of loss.

At the conclusion of the business, Mrs. Dodge introduced Mr. Farrington, Secretary, of the Mass. Horticultural Society, whose subject was "A Great Plant Hunter and his Plants".

In paying tribute to Dr. Wilson and his life work, he emphasized the fact that, due to his untiring efforts and his years of service in the interests of horticulture, our country is now the richer by over 1500 importations of rare plants, most of them coming from the remote mountain districts of China and Japan. Interesting pictures were shown on the screen, illustrating some of Mr. Wilson's thrilling adventures in the far East when searching for specimens - one unusual scene was of a vegetable stand where mounds of regal lily bulbs, sold for food were piled up between potatoes and swiss. After the lecture, tea was served.

The fourth regular meeting of the club was held on April 26th with Mrs. F. Murray, F. J. as in well as, with forty-five members and some guests ^{our} present.

Although this number included the president, Mrs. Dodge was unable to preside, being at the moment otherwise engaged, likewise the 2nd Vice-President, and in the absence of the 1st. Vice-President, it fell to the duty of the secretary to open the meeting. The reading of the minutes was omitted and the only business to come up was the announcement of three open garden days to be held this spring - A letter was read from Mrs. Cunningham, of the Chestnut Hill Garden Club, calling our attention to its date - 23rd, and we were also reminded of the Milton Garden Club visiting day, Saturday and Sunday, May 13th and 14th, our own date being Friday, May 14th, and if rainy, the following day, Saturday, May 15th.

Mrs. White spoke of azalea plants which Mrs. Ther. Brooks offered to sell for the benefit of the club, and Mrs. Sargent, Chairman of the Plant Committee was asked to attend to this matter.

The activity of the club having been aroused by the announcement on the card of "Surprise" and by the programs given out it appeared that exactly the right atmosphere prevailed to turn the business over to a "Feasting of the Wisconsinites".

Whether or not it was the intention of the play write, Edith Roelker Curtis, that we should see ourselves as others see us, we cannot say, but judging from the hilarious enthusiasm with which the play was received, it was evident that her above line and amusing situations, interpreted by an excellent cast were heartily appreciated and enjoyed.

We were also indebted to another of our own club members for the delightful lecture which followed - Mrs. John S. Codman, in speaking on the subject of "Planting of Seeds - House Plants - Their Care in Winter and Summer - How to make Cuttings and to Force Bulbs". Mrs. Codman has an experience of many years. The value and interest of her talk was greatly added to by her practical demonstration, with all the necessary equipment at hand, including flats, broken rocks for drainage, mugs, sifted loam and seeds; also the seedlings were shown at different stages of growth, and correct way of watering was explained and the picking off process shown.

Mrs. Codman stressed the great importance of keeping plants cool and of giving them plenty of fresh air, hinting that this atmosphere agreed with the family as well as the plants.

If it were that the intelligence of an audience is judged by the questions asked, it would seem that the Noanett's T. G. must rate very high, for it was difficult to close the meeting, which was followed by tea and a continuation of the discussion in the dining-room, where Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Codman both received many congratulations.

May 3rd.

The fifth regular meeting of the Club was held on May 3rd. at Mrs. Constantine Hutchins', 768 Chestnut St. Needham. There were 38 members present.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Curtis presided and opened the meeting with the secretary's report, which was read and approved.

Mrs. Bogue, chairman of the Program Committee spoke of the trip to garden being planned for May 17th. Several Concord gardens to be visited on the way.

Mrs. Brought urged all members to support the plant sale on May 19th. and to send contributions of material.

At the conclusion of the business Mrs. Curtis introduced the speaker, Mrs. Susan Howe Smith, who gave a delightful lecture

Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge Is President of Club

Three gardens never open to the public before will be included in the number which may be visited in Dover and Westwood on Friday, May 19 from 11 to 6 o'clock (the following day if it rains).

Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge of Boston and Westwood, president of the Noanett Garden Club which making possible this open day, is the general chairman and Mrs. Storer P. Ware of Westwood has selected the gardens to be shown.

The walls surrounding Mrs. Louis F. S. Bader's secluded garden in Dover and the background of greens make a lovely setting for the white flowers in which she specializes. Mrs. Donald McKay Frost's extensive garden, one of the largest in Dover, also will be shown and another being opened to the visitors for the first time will be that of Mrs. George Lewis, Jr., in Sherborn.

At Mrs. Lewis' where a formal garden and swimming pool flank the house on one side and on the other terraces slope down to the Charles River, a luncheon will be served at noon by a committee of which Mrs. George Rice is chairman.

Another attraction at Mrs. Lewis' will be the opportunity to buy the seedlings, plants and shrubs which Mrs. Sullivan A. Sargent, Jr. of Needham has been collecting for some time.

Mrs. Storer P. Ware In Charge of Gardens

The eight other gardens to be opened range from small, hobby gardens to the larger ones like that of Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth Grew which spreads through acres of woodland and open glades. Wild flowers have been planted there in quantity as well as rare shrubs and trees. Mrs. George D. Dutton of Walpole has charge of the publicity.

Mrs. Richard Saltonstall of Sherborn will open her garden May 19, Visiting Garden Day of the Noanett Garden Club. Her garden is one of the very old ones in this part of the country and is distinguished by an evergreen hedge with arching arbors connecting the double hedge that is a copy of a famous one in an old English garden.

Mrs. Paul C. Cabot of Needham is a member of Mrs. Sullivan Sargent's committee in charge of the sale of plants and shrubs to be held all day at the home of Mrs. George Lewis May 19, Visiting Day of the Noanett Garden Club. Luncheon will also be served at Mrs. Lewis' from twelve until two o'clock.

"Open Gardens Days" on May 19 was a distinct success - perfect weather and good attendance. The total receipts were $626.73 - including $418.28 gate and $208.73 for plant sale, which was held at Mrs. Lewis's, salads and sandwiches donated by members -

Garden Studio To Be Feature Of Noanett Day

*Miss Amelia Peabody
Among the Hostesses
For Garden-Lovers*

Tomorrow when the Noanett Garden Club opens eleven gardens in Dover and Sherborn to the public, one of the most attractive and unusual features will be Miss Amelia Peabody's studio. In contrast with her house, one of the oldest ones in the vicinity, the studio is distinctly modern. Besides many of the garden ornaments and portrait heads for which she is famous, it contains the figure selected in a nation-wide contest for exhibition at the World's Fair where it is to be sent shortly.

Another artist, Mrs. Walter Channing, Jr., who is noted for her flower paintings, will show visitors about in the garden of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Walter Channing, who also will have as assistant hostesses another daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Emlen Channing and Mrs. C. Frederic Lyman.

At Mrs. Richard Saltonstall's "Charlecot Farm" in Sherborn the hostess' sister, Mrs. David H. Maynard and their mother, Mrs. William B. Rogers, will act as guides for visitors to this lovely green garden. Mrs. Arthur Adams will be assisted in her garden by Mrs. Laurence W. Morgan and Mrs. George L. Wrenn, 2d.

Plant Sale

The plant sale and-luncheon will make the garden of Mrs. George Lewis, Jr., a busy spot and she will have a number of young assistants including Miss Margaret A. Revere, Miss Nancy Ware, Miss Ann Brown, Miss Elizabeth B. Cunningham and Miss Isabel B. Cunningham. In the morning Miss Margaret Warren will be the assistant at Mrs. David J. Evan's secluded garden and in the afternoon Mrs. Francis W. Bird will help.

The famous garden pit at Mrs. Lucien B. Taylors will attract many visitors. Helping to explain it will be Mrs. Frank Wright and Mrs. Orvis Collins of Hingham. Mrs. Philip Gardner and Miss Katharine A. Homans will be assistant hostesses in Mrs. Ralph Williams' garden and Mrs. Louis F. S. Bader will have her daughter, Mrs. Robert Gorham Fuller, to help her.

Executive Committee
June 30
1921

An executive meeting was held at Mrs. Dodge's in Westwood. Members being present - Mrs. Dodge, Emma, Sylvia, Helen, Grace Arnold and Miss Wold.

The principal business was a discussion of the proposed combined project of the Conservation and Horticultural Committees. Mrs. Green suggested that a wild flower path in the Door Town Forest be developed in place of the continuance of the Nature Trail work at Morse Hill. The latter is inaccessible and has also been much damaged by the hurricane.

Voted

That the Morse Hill Trail be abandoned and the Door project, under the supervision of the Cons. & Hort. Com. be developed. Reports of the Open Gardens Day were given (see previous page).

Mrs. Seymour spoke of the work at Gore Place - reporting that Mr. Ingram has done the planting satisfactorily. With the extra money she suggested that a man be employed one day a week during the summer to keep the gardens weeded. The committee approved.

Mrs. Dodge spoke of the 2nd zone meeting to be held at Peterboro July 12-13. Two delegates to go from our club - Mrs. Evans and Mrs.

Visiting Day Is Sponsored By the Noanett Garden Club

Hostesses Include Mrs. Louis F. S. Bader, Mrs. Donald McKay Frost, Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth Grew and Mrs. Richard Saltonstall

By ALISON ARNOLD

Yesterday was a perfect day for garden lovers to wander about the beautiful estates in Dover and Sherborn, opened to the public by the Noanett Garden Club. The green spring landscape was bathed in golden sunlight that was really warm, and the fragrance of apple blossoms mingled with that of newly mown grass, Robins carolled from the treetops and cheery little dandelions dotted the rolling meadows. As if to reassure themselves that winter actually is over, more visitors than ever took the opportunity to spend the day in the open and enjoy the sights and sounds of spring.

We stopped first at "Windover," where Mrs. Louis F. S. Bader welcomed the visitors. Her red brick Georgian mansion is situated on a high hill commanding a sweeping view of the surrounding countryside, and of special interest was her walled garden, where she specializes in all white flowers and evergreens. Beds of snowy tulips were bordered by box, and lilies-of-the-valley grew profusely under graceful silver birch trees.

Across winding Farm street is "Brixton," the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Channing. Their rambling vine-covered brick house is also Georgian and at one end of their formal Italian garden is a wrought iron gate leading to a long lane of cedar trees through which may be glimpsed a gorgeous view of the Dover hills. Velvety lawns, closely cropped like those in England, surround the house.

At "Frostfield," Mrs. Donald McKay Frost, wearing a printed turban with her pleated frock of slate gray, was assisted in greeting the guests by her daughter, Mrs. Austin B. Osgood, who topped her aqua frock with a checked topcoat. All along the winding driveway to the house narcissus and daffodils grew under the blossoming fruit trees, and here and there a dogwood tree showered its petals on the grass. Crabapple trees just bursting into bloom were a feature of the garden, and along the flagstoned walks pink and blue flowers made a lovely color scheme. A gorgeous panorama of wooded hills stretched away into the distance and Mrs. Bader explained that on a clear day New Hampshire can easily be seen.

Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth Grew and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth Grew, Jr., welcomed the visitors who stopped to view her lovely garden. They were seated under a spreading pine tree, Mrs. Grew in a brown tailored suit, and Mrs. Grew, Jr., who wore a blue tweed skirt and sweater, was industriously knitting with bright jonquil yellow wool. The garden is enclosed by a high hedge and at one end towering pine trees are silhouetted against the sky and give a Japanese effect. Gay, scarlet tulips made a brilliant note of color and copper beech trees contrasted with the smooth green lawn.

"Charlescote Farm" in Sherborn, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Saltonstall made us decide immediately that to live on a farm is what we want to do more than anything else. Graceful white swans sailed about on the mirror-like pond at the foot of the driveway, and in the meadows, cows grazed peacefully. A cunning little Cairn terrier greeted us on the lawn in front of the charming old white house. Mrs. Saltonstall, in a simple pink frock, was assisted in showing the visitors about by her sister-in-law, Mrs. William B. Rogers, Jr., who topped her gray skirt with a pink angora sweater. The formal garden is enclosed by tall evergreens and at one end of the lawn is a colorful bed of spring flowers. Behind the house, reached through a white gate, is the cutting garden and an herb garden, and on a rocky hillside wildflowers grow profusely. In one spot the ground was literally carpeted with violets. Inside the house with its quaint low ceilings there were bouquets of spring flowers everywhere. The conservatory was a particularly cool and inviting spot with pale pink walls and water trickling from a wall fountain. Here also were pots of salmon pink geraniums, trailing ivy and lacy ferns.

By noon, the pilgrims were glad to rest and relax and enjoy luncheon on the terrace at "Assington," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Jr., in Sherborn. This estate, which is situated on the woods at the edge of the Charles river, provided a delightful setting for an outdoor luncheon. On one side of the white stucco house are a swimming pool and formal garden and on the other, broad sweeping lawns. Mrs. Lewis, who is the sister of Gov. Saltonstall, also had a plant sale on her estate, and many purchased seedlings for their gardens.

Miss Isabel Cunningham, in turquoise tweeds, and Miss Ann Brown, in a navy and white checked frock with a tiny bow of navy velvet in her hair, were taking tickets at the gate. Among the many lunching at the small tables were Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge, president of the Noanett Garden Club, Mrs. Evans R. Dick, in beige and brown checks, Mrs. Thomas M. Claffin and Mrs. Horace G. Arnold, who had donned a flowered smock. Mrs. Ralph Emerson and her sister, Miss Julia Stephenson, drove over from Milton, and Mrs. Burton Hamilton, wearing with her green caped coat a green velvet beret, motored out from Chestnut Hill. Mrs. Jaffray de Hauteville-Bell, who was resting on a chaise-longue on the spacious veranda, took no chances on spoiling her flowered hat and carried an umbrella.

Mrs. Dodge told of plans for next spring's Flower Show - Mrs. W. A. Parker, Chairman. One large rose garden is to be done for - plan selected in competition of clubs

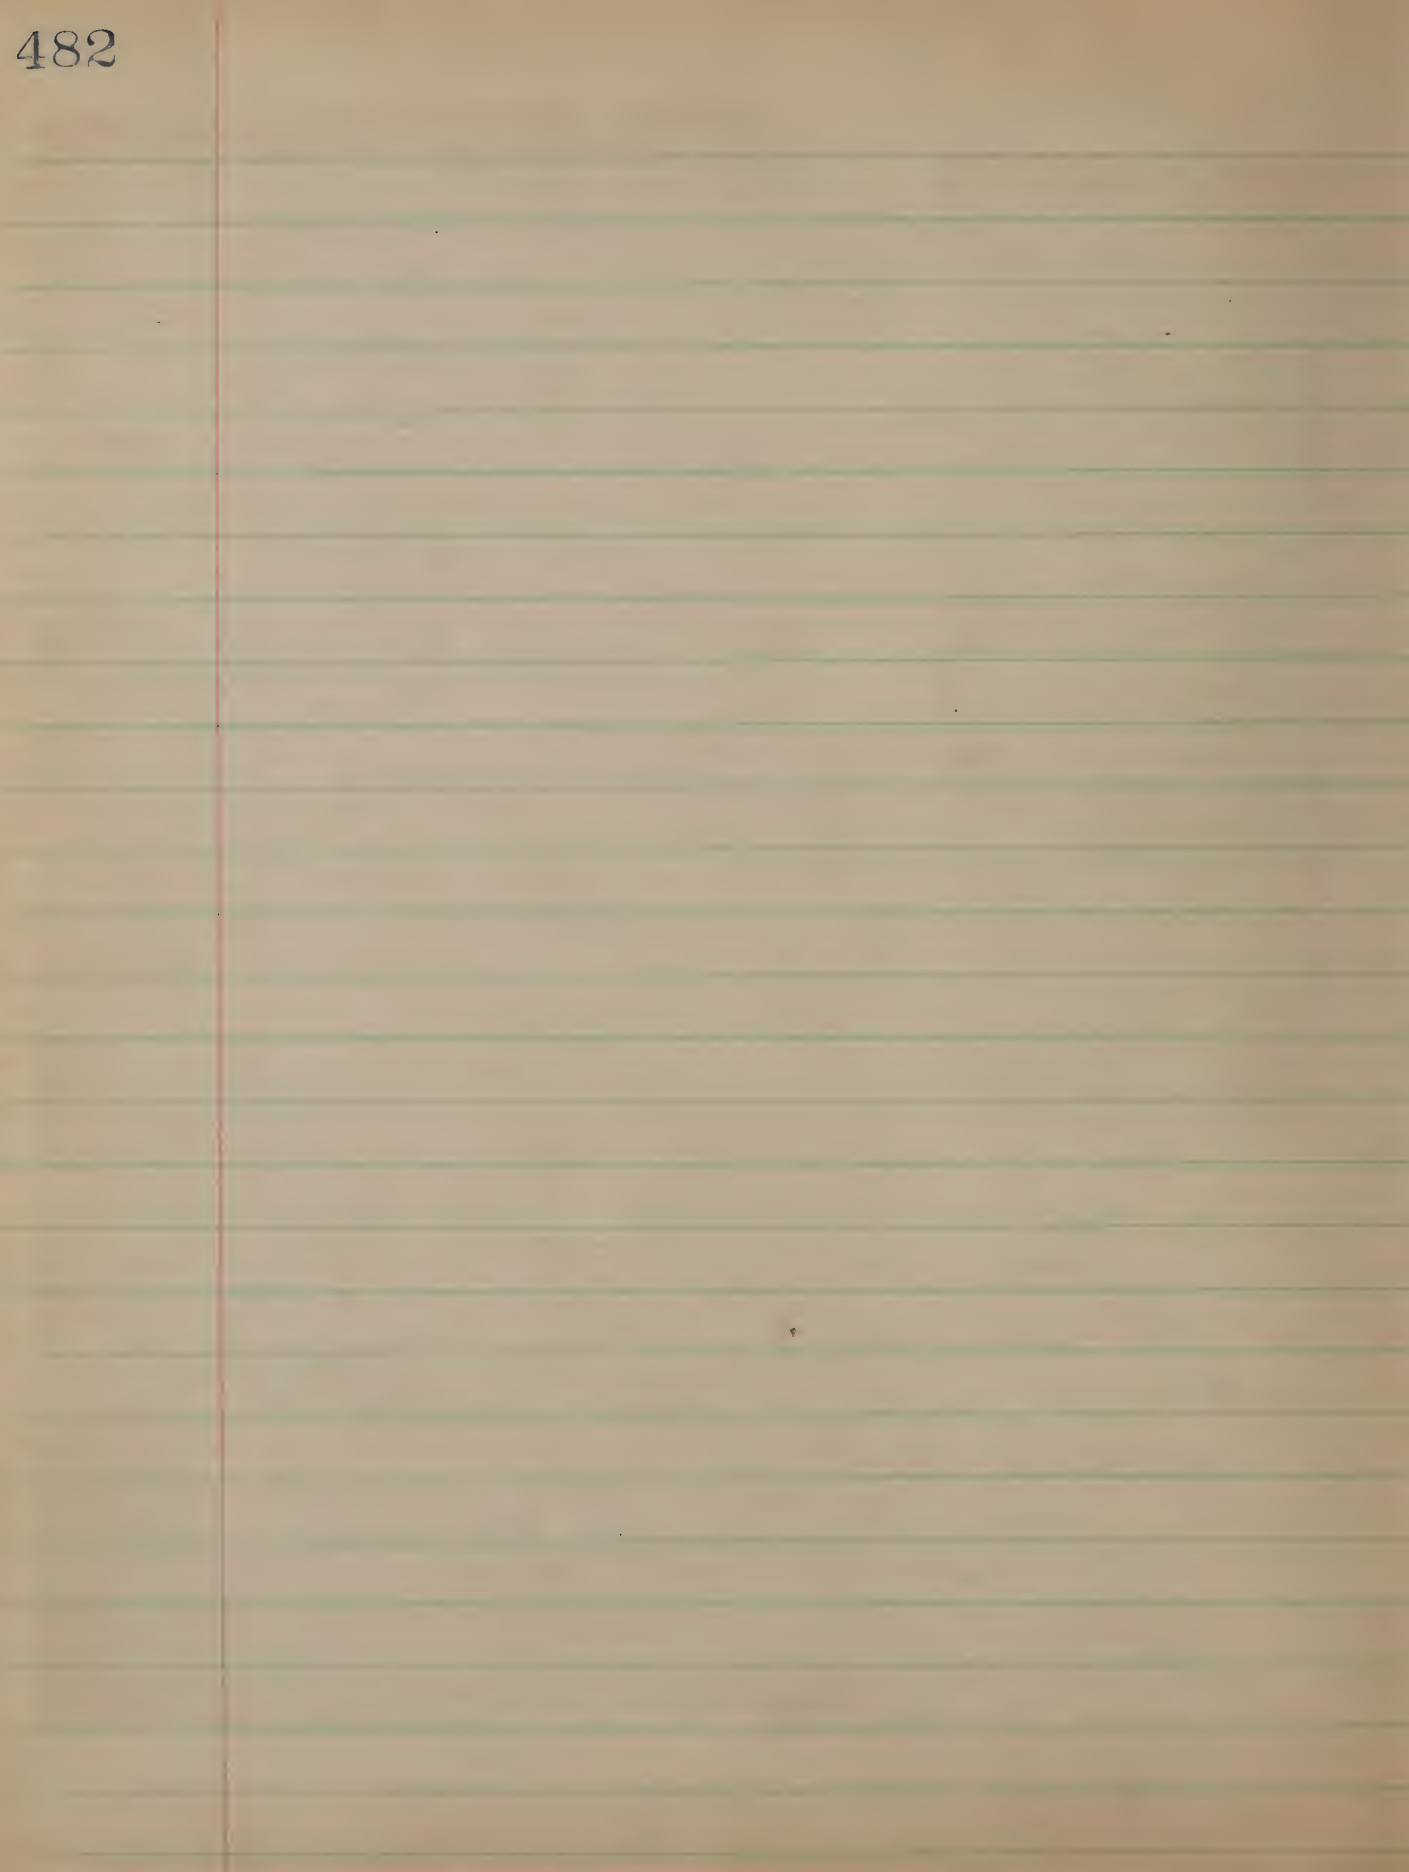

Voted That post cards be sent to all members asking for designs

9th meeting The ninth meeting of the club - including three Sept. 13 at garden days - was held at Mrs. Dodge's in Mrs. Dodge's Westwood, the president in the chair and 34 39 present members present.

The ~~secretary's~~ ^{members} record of the last meeting was read and approved.

Mrs. Symon reported a balance on hand as of Sept. 13 of $1654.34. She also stated that the Open Gardens Day of last Tues., 9th, had netted the club $610.44 - Of this amount $71.44 was taken in at the gates and $208.00 made at the plant sale. The cost of the Flower Show this year was $103.20 (a sum much smaller than that of previous years.)

Mrs. Dodge explained the recent zoning of Garden Club - ours being in the North Eastern zone, and Mrs. Evans was asked to report on a conference held at Peterborough, which she and Mrs. Cleavingly attended. Mrs. Burroughs presided at this meeting and such topics as mosquito control, bug warfare etc. were discussed. When a call was made for the names of good speakers among club members, Mrs. Evans was proud to name for Everett, Mrs. Lucien B. Taylor and Mr. John S. Coleman. Mrs. Cleaving noted that we are urged to keep kids of best or poor seeds and that we should make more use of films available at New York.

Mrs. Dodge read a letter from the F.C.C. urging members to make use of the Thatched cottage at the World's Fair grounds and to exhibit flower arrangements.

A letter was read inviting us to enter in the various classes at the New York Spring Flower Show. It was voted that a letter of regret be sent by the secretary.

A letter was read concerning the Christmas Greens Exhibit in November - Decorating of 3 ft. living trees being a new class this year. An appeal was made for a contribution to a $50.00 fund being raised to print fliers, urging the public to protect our greens by buying only those tagged or approved.

It was voted 23 to 6 that $5.00 be sent.

This ending the regular business for the day, an hour of spicing and informal discuss followed, devoted to the answers of a questionnaire recently sent to members by the president.

(Mrs. Edwin S. Dodge)

Pooling the ideas of various members on Questions I 1, 2, 3 ← II, and III, I submit the following; ^① the importance of knowing the succession of bloom in gardens
 - which should be explained by a professional (Mrs.
 Frothingham) ^② that several clubs join and engage all ~~five~~ ^{quite a number} speakers (Mrs. Lyman), that pictures be omitted (Mrs. Perkins) ^③ the importance of conservation meetings - it should be our duty to have them (Mrs.
 Frothingham) ^④ a well balanced program desired (Miss Homans) ^⑤ a speaker who can be interrupted right through (Mrs. Parker) ^⑥ a lecturer who would speak on small gardens, ~~seen by~~ members minus gardeners (Mrs. Chas. Colth) ^⑦ a lecturer who would submit to a barrage of written questions put out to him as he talked (Mrs. Farley) -

4 The Open Gardens day question was discussed as follows, - ^① that the venture is well worth while ^② that a new group be seen each year ^③ that all gardens should be worth seeing (Mrs. Frothingham) ^④ that various kinds, large or small shall be seen, and special features in each should be noted on list of gardens. See next page →

5 Miss Homans thinks that small gardens are ~~rather~~ ^{business} because of our plant sales - After a discussion, it was felt that even if we refrain from buying from the professional and that the other kind our sales stimulate ordering.

ways of raising money in other ways was discussed - also the question, why raise any money? Mrs. Grew thinks "we are awfully dead and dull if we don't" - An auction was suggested and a Plant Exchange between members which was tried successfully by Miss Peabody, but is extremely difficult.

Voted

It was voted that we have another plant sale as we had last year.

Mrs. Loring presented a scheme of dividing our members into groups, each group making a thorough study of one special flower.

This has been suggested before but ^{was} not met with sufficient enthusiasm to carry it through. Miss Howans suggested that the president appoint four writers to head these groups and to try launching the project again.

Mrs. Taylor proposed having a House Plant Show in the Spring and that members tell why they did or did not succeed.

Questions

It was asked that full information be at hand concerning causes to which our money is given before the Annual meeting.

9-10

Mrs. Farley suggested that lunch at the Annual meeting be provided at the Club in Dedham or some such place and members be assessed for it. Mrs. Howe thought a group of members might entertain together

Voted

It was voted that Mrs. Fairley's plan be adopted. Answering the statement that our members are inclined to be too "cliquey" on this occasion, her answer was "Everyone gravitates to one's friends and it's very artificial when you try to pry them apart."

11

In answer to the last question on the list, as to whether our teas are too elaborate, a most practical and concrete answer was at hand. Under whatever category Mrs. Dodge's tea rightly belonged, the unanimous feeling was quite apparent, - namely that it was just right.

Executive
meeting
Oct. 11

An executive meeting was held on Oct. 11 at Mrs. Dodge's in Westwood. at 12.30 o'clock, the president and eight members present, - mesdames Lyman, Curtis, Morrill, Codman, Brooks, Paul, Sargent and Arnold.

Mrs. Paul reported on plans for the Annual meeting and read names being considered. All those present felt that the Dollar Lunch should be chosen rather than that at $1.25. Mrs. Dodge read information concerning the contributor's Fund.

For the program Mrs. Paul spoke of the plan to have a course of lectures in the early spring. Mrs. Lyman said that Mrs. Ames was interested and had given

see other books her studio as a possible meeting place. It was later suggested that this project might well be worked up by the Horticultural Committee, and Mrs. Codman said that her group might be able to accomplish more if money were appropriated.

 Mrs. Sargent thought that an interesting meeting might be devoted to the showing of pictures of members' places before & after planting. Mrs.
 Dodge asked for a discussion of the various causes to which we make contributions.
 Mrs. Lyman reported the condition of our work at Gore Place and said that on the whole the planting had come through the dry season quite well. It was recommended that we ask the club to donate $50.00 this year to carry on this important work, and that we combine with the North Shore Garden Club to engage a competent man to keep the two sections started by our club in good order.
 Mrs. Dodge asked members of the Board to investigate the needs of several causes, which we are thoughtful - such as P. Lich. Swamp, Dutch Elm Disease and Northup School.
 Mrs. Lyman asked that we recommend a change in By-Laws 6 and Mrs. Dodge in No. 4. It was voted - see sp. page A general discussion of club matters was continued during a delightful lunch -

Voted.

10th meeting
Sept. 27 The tenth regular meeting of the club was held at Mrs. Ralph B. Perkins in home on Sept. 27 - Mrs. Dodge presided and 42 members ^{+ 2 guests} were present. In the absence of the secretary the reading of the records was omitted. There was no business.

The program for the day was in charge of one of our own members, Mrs. Lucien B. Taylor, ~~the~~ who talked on wild flowers showing very lovely slides on the screen.

11th meeting
Oct. 11 The eleventh regular meeting of the club was held with Mrs. T. Nelson Perkins in Westwood on Oct. 11 - Mrs. Dodge presiding and 41 members present.

The secretary's record of the Sept. 15th meeting, explaining the result of the president's questionnaire, was read and approved.

The program was in charge, jointly, of the Conservation and Horticultural Committees. Mrs. Grew, chairman of conservation, told of why the Iron Hill trail had been given up, two very good reasons being its inaccessibility & ~~another~~ the serious damage ^{done} to that section ~~done~~ by the hurricane.

Mrs. Grew reminded us that the club, being for the past three years sent a student to the Lost River Nature Camp, voted last Spring

no. few spoke of special effort being made this year to urge all persons to insist on buying only Tagged Christmas greens

to consult Mr. Buckheister, before decided upon a repetition of this work. Acting upon his suggestion, a student's tuition ^{was} paid at the Audubon Nature Camp, the Todd Wild Life Sanctuary in Maine. Mr. Robert Goodenough of Dover was selected as one who would not only benefit himself from such a course, but who would bring back valuable information which might help us in the development of the Dover Nature Trail. Mrs. Green then introduced Mr. Goodenough, who spoke with enthusiasm of his summer's course. He considers the camp an excellent one, placed in a very beautiful spot, the island being largely covered with climax spruce. Here the days were devoted to the study of plants, all kinds of conservation, shore life and sea life, with evenings for round table discussions. He urged that our Club continue giving this scholarship to a carefully selected student. Mr. Goodenough is much interested in our plan for the Dover Nature Trail, and advises that we study carefully the needs and aims of such a trail. He suggests that we keep all natural beauties and try to re-establish such vanished plants as the trailing arbutus.

Particularly appropriate was the talk which followed, given by Mrs. Wilde who was introduced by Mrs. Codman.

chairman of the Horticultural Com. Mrs. Lister & Mrs. Taylor decided last spring to attempt the propagation of arbutus, from cuttings, directions found in the "Gardener's Guide" being explicitly followed. To an even moderately keen gardener the labor entailed in this project would have seemed herculean, and whether they succeed or fail we may be proud of our Hortic. Com. for making the attempt.

Mrs. Codrington then introduced Mr. Kemp, Director of the Norfolk County Agric. School, who described the interesting work being done at this institution, where about 200 students, including four girls, study various forms of agriculture, and are able to fit themselves for well paid positions at the end of their training. Mr. Kemp agreed to visit the school at any time and to consult them whenever advice is needed.

The meeting adjourned for tea at 4.30.

12th. meeting The 12th. regular meeting of the club was held with Mrs.
Oct. 25 Charles Lyman in Town. Mrs. Dodge presiding and 43 present & also several guests.

The secretary's record of the last meeting was read and approved.

Mrs. Dodge urged again that we buy only tagged Christmass greens. A letter was read from the Southboro School announcing three courses of lecture to be held in Boston this winter, open to Garden Club members. A letter was read from the Mass. Federation of Garden Clubs explaining their desire to raise the dues from 5 to 10¢ per member. It was voted that Mrs. Dodge be empowered to approve of this at their coming meeting. This ending the business, Mrs.
Dodge then introduced the speaker, Mrs. Byram Perkins of Chestnut Hill who spoke most interestingly on "the Small Garden". Among the many helpful suggestions given, she stressed the importance of a thorough preparation and testing of soil, its frequent renewal, deep dug beds for best results, fall fertilizing not so good as spring the tiring up and fattening of special plants and proper watering. She told of what plants required acid soil and those which needed sweet, of the proper way to make new beds, and the great value in real leaf mould. She believed Oct. 25 to be the dead line on making next year's beds & stressed the importance of watering evergreens & newly other subjects were discussed with ability.

Mrs. Permar was besieged with questions after the meeting which adjourned for tea at 4.55.
